Paris To Stage Monthly Review

French Move May Force NATO To Revise Flights

PARIS (AP) — The United States and its North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies are facing the possibility of having to revise military flight routes across Europe drastically as the result of a new French move.

Informed sources in Paris reported Wednesday the French government told the other members of the Atlantic alliance that beginning June 1 it will review every month its permission for Allied military planes to fly over France or land there.

In the past such permission has been granted on a yearly basis, and almost automatically.

The new French action is another step in President Charles de Gaulle's program to remove France from NATO's military activities.

The sources said there was no indication that the French planned to ban NATO flights and landings. But if they did, France with neutral Switzerland and Austria — over which military flights are not permitted — would form an East-

West barrier from the Atlantic to the Iron Curtain.

This would sever direct air connection of NATO forces in Italy, Greece and Turkey from those in West Germany, Denmark, Norway, Britain and the Low Countries.

Allied officials say the question of overflights is a key point in negotiations over France's withdrawal from the NATO integrated military command and its demand that all NATO forces get out of France by next April 1.

Pentagon Attacked On Disposal

McNamara Faces Quiz On Military Surplus Gear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces a brush-fire war on Capitol Hill over the disposal of surplus military gear.

And Senate investigators added fuel with a charge that the Pentagon is discarding used but current models of military equipment, some of it virtually identical to newly ordered items.

The next formal engagement is due Friday, when the Senate subcommittee on foreign aid expenditures holds a public hearing on Air Force surplus equipment practices.

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, the chairman, has accused the Defense Department of giving away for foreign aid used but repairable heavy equipment.

He said the cranes, bulldozers and tractors are desperately needed by American forces in South Viet Nam.

The Pentagon countered with an assertion that Gruening "apparently wants the American soldiers in Viet Nam to fight with junk."

Gruening's rebuttal: Ridiculous.

McNamara has had a stormy year with Congress. On one hand, he has faced the complaints of lawmakers who oppose the U.S. position in South Viet Nam; on the other, senators and representatives who challenge the way the war effort is being managed.

With Gruening, he's in trouble on both counts.

The Alaskan, 79, is opposed to American involvement in Southeast Asia.

But he insisted in an interview Wednesday that has no bearing on his views about military equipment.

"Whatever may be my opposition to our being there," Gruening said, "I believe that the boys down there should have every possible weapon and advantage that we can give them."

As for the junk label, Gruening said:

"Retrieved equipment is today in use on the docks in Viet Nam to unload badly needed equipment."

Gosney Says Party Pushes Him For Post

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, chairman of the Democratic party in the county, disclosed today that he is being urged by fellow Democrats to seek the post of state chairman now held by William L. Coleman.

Gosney said he is interested in the position.

Coleman indicated earlier that he would not seek re-election if he won the Democratic nomination which he did at Tuesday's primary election.

$10.5 Billion Measure Due OK In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big appropriations bill including $489 million President Johnson says he does not want for health and education awaits oral House passage today.

The $10,555,342,500 measure, to finance the Labor Department and the Health, Education and Welfare Department in the next fiscal year, was approved informally by voice vote Wednesday after an economy drive failed to cut some of the increases.

But before the expected roll call vote sends the measure to the Senate, one final attempt to slash spending five per cent across the board was to be disposed of.

Scranton Postpones Planned Trip To Viet

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton announced today he is postponing his planned trip to Viet Nam because of pending legislation to increase the penalties for rape.

He said in a statement that Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, told him he had forwarded recommendations for an agreement to House Majority Leader Hoshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia.

"I sincerely hope that agreement can be reached quickly and the bill to increase penalties passed by both houses," Scranton said.

U.S. Rations Viet Bombs, GOP Claims

Administration Cited With Letting Situation Crumble

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. John J. Williams said today the United States is "rationing bombs" in Viet Nam.

He coupled that with a charge the administration "allowed the situation to deteriorate in Viet Nam" during President Johnson's 1964 campaign against Republican challenger Barry Goldwater.

"Why have the American people not been told the truth about the seriousness of the situation in Southeast Asia? Williams asked in a speech prepared for a conference of Republican women.

"Shortages have developed. We are now rationing bombs and other military supplies," the Delaware senator said. "Why did the administration fool the American people? Was the election of any public official more important than the life of an American boy?"

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has denied U.S. forces in South Viet Nam face supply shortages.

Williams said that during the campaign Johnson "accused Goldwater of being a trigger-happy warmonger for proposing some of the same military steps that he took immediately after the election."

Goldwater addresses the GOP women after Williams today.

Williams said he was not passing judgment on the wisdom of the military steps ordered by Johnson in the Vietnames war.

"But why were Goldwater's suggestions denounced so viciously during the campaign and then after the election adopted by President Johnson?" he asked.

Williams did not say what Goldwater suggestions he had in mind.

Difficult For U.S. To Observe Fact

War In Viet Nam Spilling Into Laos And Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war in Viet Nam has been spilling over into Laos and Cambodia and the United States is encountering more difficulty in obscuring the fact.

Two unusual official disclosures in the last three days have thrown fresh light on the involvement in combat actions of territories in both Laos and Cambodia.

In Washington, the Defense Department reported for the first time on casualties in air operations over Laos. The reports showed that in the past two years 11 U.S. fliers have been killed there and somewhat fewer than 20 others have been listed as missing or captured by Communist forces.

And in Saigon, a U.S. spokesman confirmed accounts from news correspondents on the scene that last Saturday American artillery fired across a boundary river into Cambodian jungles to silence enemy guns when U.S. troops ran into heavy fire from Viet Cong forces on the Cambodian side.

Washington authorities asserted that in the prolonged operations over Laos and in the brief clash across the Cambodian border, the Communists were responsible for initial violations of territory outside Viet Nam and that the U.S. fire was defensive.

Officials in Washington denied that this week's unusual disclosures resulted from any policy decision to signal a new and broader phase of warfare in Southeast Asia. Basic U.S. policy, they said, is still to keep the conflict confined to Viet Nam but Communist actions sometimes force counteractions outside that country.

When such actions do occur the practice of the State and Defense departments has been to say nothing about them if possible and otherwise to make minimum disclosure. The justification offered for this practice is that sensitive relations with other governments are involved.

As the Viet Nam war grows in intensity, however, it is now recognized here that the policy of silence may very well be more difficult to maintain.

In the current case of the report of casualties suffered over Laos, officials said the Defense Department had received queries about a week ago concerning notification given to a family of a lost flier. The family reportedly was informed that the loss had occurred over Laos.

When Pentagon officials looked into the matter, it was said, they found that the identification of Laos as the scene of combat operations had been given in notices sent to a number of families and they therefore decided that since this information had been officially provided to next of kin they should issue a casualty report in response to inquiries.

House Group Trims LBJ's Fund Request

$14.3 Billion Bid Cut $302 Million To Run 24 Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee slashed more than $302 million today from the $14.3 billion President Johnson requested to finance 24 federal agencies next year.

It was the first substantial reduction recommended by the committee in five big money bills this session. The committee's approval of several hefty increases in earlier bills has prompted the President to criticize congressional spenders.

But if the committee's action today is sustained next week by the House, it may evoke more presidential criticism.

Among other cuts, the committee knocked out the entire $19.7 million requested to Project Mohole going. This is a National Science Foundation project to drill deep into the earth beneath the seat to try to find out about the earth's age, makeup and other scientific data.

Congress has provided $55.4 million for the project over the past four years.

In ordering the project terminated, the committee said the cost already has greatly exceeded original estimates and the additional money requested "can be more advantageously used in other activities."

Sen. Dirksen Rejected On Rights Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders apparently have rejected Sen. Everett M. Dirksen's lead in opposing President Johnson's proposed ban on racial discrimination in housing, a key provision of the 1966 civil rights bill.

The lack of strong GOP House support so far for Dirksen's stand has raised the hopes of civil rights leaders that the controversial provision can be retained in the new bill.

Dirksen, the Senate Republican leader, has called the housing proposal "absolutely unconstitutional" and predicted it would be removed from the bill. The measure also attacks discrimination in selection of juries, seeks greater protection against violence for civil rights workers and speedier school desegregation.

But key GOP figures in the House are having nothing to do with his stand. Minority leader Gerald R. Ford and Rep. William H. McCulloch, R-Ohio, the senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, which will write the bill, say they want to wait until all the evidence is in.

And Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., an important member of the judiciary subcommittee now working on the bill, flatly says Dirksen is wrong.

Segregation Stand Held By Gov. Wallace

May Cause Negroes To Vote For Wife's Foe In November

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace has refused to budge from his segregationist stand, even though it may cause Negroes to vote for his wife's Republican opponent in November.

"We are not going to change our attitude for anybody," he told newsmen Wednesday. "We're not making any deals for any group of voters."

With the Democratic primary behind them, and Mrs. Wallace assured of the nomination to succeed her husband, Wallace was looking to the general election which he said, in effect, could be won without the Negro vote.

In Washington, the probable GOP nominee for governor, congressman James D. Martin, said Mrs. Wallace's thumping victory wouldn't deter him from seeking nomination from the state convention July 29.

He said he hoped Negroes "won't vote as a bloc, in the

City's Spring Cleanup To Be Opened May 16

The annual two-week citywide spring cleanup drive will begin on Monday, May 16. Safety Service Director Robert E. Vorey advised householders today.

The director explained he issued the advance notice to permit householders to clean up the winter's accumulation of refuse from lawns and gardens and remove trash from cellars, attics and garages in time for the beginning of the campaign.

Street department trucks will be used to augment incinerator department vehicles in the annual campaign, which will continue through Friday, May 27, the director said. Details, including daily schedules, will be announced later.

Helicopter Crash Kills All 21 GIs

Craft Catches Fire, Goes Down 110 Miles From Saigon

SAIGON (AP)—The U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division flushed the first sizable enemy force in three weeks today, reporting it killed 100 Viet Cong with possibly 300 to 400 more trapped in a valley.

The fighting broke out 11 miles north of Bong Son, 280 miles northeast of Saigon near the scene of heavy fighting earlier this year.

A division spokesman said two rings of troops were deployed on high ground around the valley, with the enemy digging in, apparently for a fight to the finish.

By late tonight, the division reported it had captured 30 Viet Cong and seized 268 weapons.

In the air war, high-flying B52 bombers plastered a Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian border for the fifth day in a row.

The American Stratoforts dropped their 750-pound bombs on a suspected Communist arms factory and training area 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Over North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers renewed their attacks in force after a two-day lull during which their flights were almost washed out by monsoon rains.

In the renewed aerial assaults in the north, a U.S. spokesman reported that an F105 Thunderchief was shot down by enemy ground fire 65 miles northeast of Hanoi. The pilot parachuted and was seen on the ground but a rescue attempt was thwarted by heavy antiaircraft fire.

It was the 229th U.S. plane reported lost over North Viet Nam.

Sgt. Talbott Wounded In Viet Fighting

Sgt. Samuel Talbott of Newell, wounded in Viet Nam while serving with an armored unit three weeks ago, is convalescing at a hospital in Japan, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Talbott of Lincoln Ave., Newell.

Sgt. Talbott, 24, has been in the Army seven years and arrived in Viet Nam in March. He is with the 169th Armored Battalion.

He suffered two wounds of the left foot, one in each knee and three in the shoulder, his parents said, but information on how he was wounded has not yet been received, they added.

Sgt. Talbott, who attended Wells High School, and his wife, who resides at McMinville, Tenn., have a son, 2. The sergeant had been scheduled for discharge this spring and was to have returned to the United States for a visit. He was planning to re-enlist, his mother said.

Eight Injured In Area Falls

Eight persons injured in falls were among the 13 treated Thursday at City Hospital.

Mrs. Edith Sheppard of 237 Carolina Ave., Chester, fractured her right ankle in a fall last night at the Masonic Temple.

Miss Nettie Butler of Wellsville R. D. 1 fractured her ankle in a fall in the driveway at home.

Both were admitted overnight so casts can be applied.

Starr Lynn Parsons, daughter of John Parsons of 3053 Curry St., suffered a possible fracture of the right arm in a fall from a sliding board.

David Mick, son of Mrs. Shirley Donaldson of 1786 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was treated for a laceration of the palm suffered when he fell while holding a fishhook in his right hand.

In a fall from a bicycle, Thomas VanFossan, son of Thomas VanFossan of 5th Ave., LaCroft, fractured his left arm.

Mrs. Lilly Deshler of 1708 Pennsylvania Ave. fell from a stepladder at home, suffering contusions of the right leg, right cheek and nose.

Mrs. Lloyd Swearingen of Wellsville R. D. 1 fractured her left wrist in a fall at home.

John Bennett of 408 13th St., Wellsville, suffered contusions of the right foot and ankle in a fall.

Terry Fowler, son of George Fowler of 1514 Smithfield St., fractured a rib while swinging a baseball bat.

Robert Buzzard, son of Herbert Buzzard of 814 St. Clair Ave., suffered first- and second-degree burns of the left arm, face and ear when a coffee pot toppled over.

William Moore of 218 Peach St., a construction work, received contusions and abrasions of the right hand when a ladder fell on him.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 227 government troops killed and 29 missing compared with 93 killed and 33 missing last week. Wounded figures are not announced.

Other allied forces reported two dead and 11 wounded, down from 32 killed and 19 wounded in the previous week.

Communist losses declined to 456 reported killed and 98 captured. The week before, Viet Cong casualties were put at 694 killed and 69 captured.

The enemy figures dropped below this in the week of Jan. 16-22 when the allies reported 408 Communists killed. The highest enemy death toll came in the week of March 20-26 when 1,988 were reported killed.

The B52 raid was carried out in the Communist C zone in Tay Ninh province where troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division are trying to root out the Viet Cong in Operation Birmingham.

It was the fifth day in a row and the eighth day of the past nine that the eight-jet bombers returned to the area from their bases on Guam.

In South Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew 300 sorties Wednesday and South Vietnamese pilots flew 207 against Viet Cong targets.

Viet Nam near the Cam Ranh Bay air base, 170 miles northeast of Saigon, after it ran out of fuel Wednesday. Both crewmen ejected and were rescued.

All 21 U.S. servicemen aboard a U.S. Army CH47 Chinook helicopter were killed when the helicopter caught fire and crashed Wednesday night in heavy jungle 110 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was one of the worst helicopter disasters of the war. A spokesman said the big helicopter "burst into flames in the air but there was no evidence of enemy action." Aboard were an Army crew of five and 16 soldiers.

U.S. and other allied combat dead nearly doubled last week, while the number of Viet Cong killed declined to the second lowest level of the year, the allied military commands reported.

The losses on both sides continued to reflect a relative lull in the ground war, with total casualties below figures earlier in the year.

A U.S. spokesman reported 70 Americans killed, 589 wounded and seven missing or captured last week compared with 35 killed, 547 wounded, and eight missing or captured in the week of April 17-23.

Since Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 3,152 Americans have been killed in battle or died of combat wounds.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 227 government troops killed and 29 missing compared with 93 killed and 33 missing last week. Wounded figures are not announced.

Other allied forces reported two dead and 11 wounded, down from 32 killed and 19 wounded in the previous week.

Wallace

interest of all concerned," but he planned to "ask for the vote of all of the people who believe in my platform and philosophy."

The freshman congressman, one of five Republican House members elected in Alabama during the Barry Goldwater state landslide in 1964, said he would peg his campaign to the two-party system and the idea that Wallace represents "the Democratic party of Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey."

Martin is considered a potent vote getter. In 1962, he almost unseated U.S. Sen. Lister Hill, a Democrat.

Whether Wallace or Martin would get Negro endorsement was an open question. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said it is possible that Negroes would vote in a bloc for Mrs. Wallace in the general election, but he added that it was too early to say.

He said he thought the Negro bloc would be needed for victory.

Martin, however, played down the strength of the Negro vote in the primary, saying it wasn't high as expected.

In New York, meanwhile, attorney Robert Daru said he would go into state and federal courts to challenge Mrs. Wallace's nomination.

Daru issued a statement calling the nomination an "avowed and admitted conspiracy to evade constitutional provisions against succession."

Alabama's constitution prohibits the governor from seeking consecutive re-election. Wallace and his wife both have said he will continue to make the policy decisions if she is elected.

The new Negro vote in Alabama, estimated to number 257,000, made little difference in Wednesday's primary except to put state Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers in a distant second place.

But in county voting mainly across Alabama's soil-rich black belt, it put several Negro candidates into the May 31 runoff for local office and for seats in the all-white legislature.

Negroes will fight it out against white opponents for sheriff in the second primary in Bullock, Hale, Macon and Perry counties. In Barbour, Greene and Wilcox, Negro candidates who ran for sheriff were defeated.

One of the veteran officers who survived the Negro challenge was Sheriff William E. (Big Bill) Lee in Greene County. The onetime All-America tackle for Alabama recently appointed a wealthy Negro farmer-businessman as a deputy, but he said he did not think that influenced the outcome of Wednesday's voting.

A Negro attorney, Fred D. Gray of Tuskegee, found himself facing a runoff for a legislative seat after unofficial returns indicated that he had won the nomination. Gray, who has taken an active part in civil rights court battles, complained that he had found indications of a discrepancy in the vote count.

The Negro lawyer is running in a three-county district which includes Gov. Wallace's home county of Barbour.

Other Negro candidates went into runoffs for House seats in Jefferson and Mobile counties.

Among the Negroes whose names will be on the runoff ballot for local office is the Rev. Obie L. Scott Jr., who ran first in a race with two white men for tax collector in Perry County. Scott is King's brother-in-law.

Meeting Planned With Crucible On Midland Traffic

Raymond Presutti, chairman of the Midland Traffic Committee, said today the group hopes to meet with officials of the Crucible Steel Co. Monday to seek cooperation in alleviating traffic congestion in the borough.

Presutti said the committee will present a traffic survey drawn up by Richard Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, and will ask Crucible to assist with the proposed plan.

"The opening of the 6th St. underpass for pedestrians has helped to solve some of the problems, since some of the workers now park at the 3rd St. lot and don't have as far to walk to their jobs. However, there are still a few more ways Crucible can help us iron out the situation," he said.

At present, the borough has three policemen on duty at various intersections to aid the flow of traffic. The borough secretary has been assigned to work the desk during these hours, answering calls to every man available may assist with the traffic problem.

Another Way Out

When Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, sits down with President Johnson, both men will be looking for the same thing.

Both want to find a rationale for a military involvement in Southeast Asia that has stirred misgivings in the minds of their countrymen.

They can agree that the United States cannot pick up and leave South Viet Nam. They also can agree with no trouble that the United States cannot stay there indefinitely if its welcome has run out with the South Vietnamese.

This will be particularly true if the South Vietnamese finally are permitted to hold an election for the purpose of choosing a civilian government and their new non-military spokesmen say to the United States what is in the hearts of many who are tired of living on a battlefield: "Yankee, quit trying to save us while there are still some of us left to enjoy life."

BUT THERE IS another way out of the quandary in South Viet Nam that could be agreeable to everybody concerned, except the government of North Viet Nam and the government of the Chinese People's Republic.

The United States could abandon the pretense that it intends to guarantee freedom, prosperity, a Western way of life and all the good things of the 20th century to South Viet Nam.

It could say to them and to its people at home that it intends to establish and maintain a massive military establishment in South Viet Nam as security against Communist China.

This would put the presence of U.S. troops in Viet Nam and their activity there in a different light—the same light as U.S. troops in Korea, in Cuba, the Philippines, Britain, Germany and a dozen other bastions of military security. No pretense is made in these places of wanting to do anything but show the flag overseas and keep possible enemies on the defensive.

THE AMERICAN people are not choking up on the idea of having tens of thousands of troops in Southeast Asia, or spending billions in a war that may never end.

What sticks in their throats is the tattered credo that all this is being done out of love for the people of South Viet Nam.

It is being done to give the United States a second toehold in Asia. If it were talked about that way, it would be infinitely easier to believe in it. And it would be possible to see success ahead. After all, the United States still has a base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba, with Communists on the other side of a fence.

Alabama Proves A Point

Gov. Wallace's pretty wife Lurline easily won the nomination for Alabama governor.

The truth about elections is that they rarely are based on rational thinking.

More emotion than logic goes into the choice of candidates. Most campaigning is purely emotional, rarely factual. The election, itself, is emotional purge.

After it's over, people feel better. They then can go back to work to earn the money it is going to cost to underwrite the cost of supporting government under the winner and forget about politics until the next time.

And when the next time comes, the same irrational experience will be repeated. The candidates will talk about everything except the real issues, and the voters will think about everything except the things that need to be thought about. It's a wonderful system.

It brings some amazing results. Mrs. Wallace's nomination is as amazing as anything likely to happen for years to come. Her husband had tried every way he knew to change the law so he could run for renomination, even though his allotted time was up.

Failing in attempts to change the law, he arranged to have his wife run, with the clear understanding she would not be governor, though she would take the oath, draw the salary and hold the title. Her husband would continue to make the decisions.

If anything happened to him, who then would be governor? Who but Mrs. George C. Wallace, provided she wins the November election? And don't bet she won't.

Voting in this country is emotional. It sometimes is whimsical. And in Alabama it is always prejudiced in favor of the candidate who appeals to the strongest emotion there ever is in the Deep South. Gov. Wallace is a past master at that sort of thing.

Mrs. Wallace, who looks like a lady who couldn't really hate anybody, may be surprised at what she stands for before her husband gets through with this year's campaign.

Defending The Primary

The only comment made on the direct primary any more is criticism of the small turnout at the polls. This is supposed to be proof the primary isn't doing what it was supposed to do.

It is proof of no such thing. The primary was supposed to break the stranglehold of the power structure of political parties over the choice of candidates. It was supposed to make it possible for new blood to get into public offices without a long period of toadying to party bosses.

The direct primary was a momentous reform movement. It grew out of the bitter resentment of Robert M. LaFollette, governor of Wisconsin, U.S. senator from Wisconsin and Progressive candidate for the presidency.

His resentment had been generated by resistance of regular Republicans to his proposals. He learned he could go over the heads of leadership to the people, themselves, and win support.

Hence, the direct primary. It was "Old Bob" LaFollette's way of making the power structure of his own Republican party responsive to the ordinary run of voters. It had the same effect, of course, on the Democratic party.

The direct primary has not been what its originator cracked it up to be: no reform ever is. But it has done what he wanted it to do. It has destroyed the old-time control of political bosses, who rigged party conventions and nominated their own choices.

Whether this has been good or bad for the two-party system is debatable. Whether the direct primary qualifies as a reform this many years after its inception early in the 20th century is debatable.

What is not debatable, however, is what happened to the power structure of political parties. It cannot be located any more. Except on rare occasions, it never appears. And when it does appear, it is temporary.

Automakers' Critic

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Ralph Nader, one of the greatest pains in the neck the automobile industry ever encountered, has put in years analyzing the problem of safety in American cars but not much time analyzing himself.

As few ever have, this tall, gangling, unmarried, 32-year-old lawyer has helped light a fire under Congress and the automakers with his criticism of the latter and his crusade for safer cars.

He has done it with his book, "Unsafe At Any Speed," which hasn't made him a fortune, and his statements before Congress and groups anxious to hear his attacks.

This year Congress may pass a law laying down federal safety standards and requirements such as have never been imposed on the industry. The automakers finally thought this might be worthwhile although a few weeks before they didn't.

Nader is not only not a mechanic, he doesn't own a car. He has gathered his information from various sources, like studies and engineering reports. He often goes sleepless to do research and prepare his next day's statements.

The night before last, getting ready to appear before a congressional committee Wednesday he didn't sleep at all. And when he arrived he had such a bundle of material he needed both arms to carry it.

Nader, a graduate of Princeton and Harvard Law School, gave up a law practice to devote himself full time to this cause. Why? What makes him tick? What's the motivation behind this use of his life for this crusade?

As him, he's a little blank. He relishes the question. He grins and rubs his head and makes a hasty expedition back through his life to childhood in search of the answer. He can't be sure. He can only guess.

And his guess is vague. He thinks his parents, Lebanese with a restaurant in Winsted, Conn., were an influence but he can't say how. He knows he always felt people should do good for one another.

He called it public service. It didn't involve making money. For some reason, trying to explain, he thought of the dignity of man and the time he was four years old in the Eastern Orthodox Church is family attended.

He was in line with a lot of other boys, waiting to go up and kiss the bishop's hand, and he didn't want to because he thought it was an indignity to him. Beyond that he seemed at a loss for his motivation about safe cars.

Except for this: He said "I have been interested in auto safety ever since my school days when I saw too much blood on the highway." The auto industry's reaction to him hasn't been exactly warm.

Henry Ford II, head of the Ford Motor Co., said that if Nader was a good engineer he could have a job at Ford but "frankly, I don't think he knows very much about automobiles."

And General Motors had private detectives investigate his life. Nader testified that after his book was published gumshoes followed him, quizzed his friends and old college acquaintances about his sex life, asking whether he was anti-Semitic and if he belonged to any left-wing groups. They found nothing against him.

And on an extraordinary day, James M. Roche, president of General Motors, apologized before a Senate committee for the sleuthing, explaining it was to find out if Nader had any connection with damage claims against GM.

Nader had traveled a lot overseas, writing about problems he saw, and then came home to concentrate on automobiles, believing, he said, he couldn't solve foreign problems but might help solve some at home.

He has other projects in mind when this is finished but won't disclose them. One friend said of him:

"The good thing about what he is doing is that it shows the individual counts and can get things done. The old saying about individual effort — 'you can't fight city hall' — didn't count in his case."

Odd Facts

It must have occurred to a lot of other people, too, that hundreds of thousands of jobs will be looking for people to do them this summer while 1.8 million students will be looking for employment suitable for their imaginary skill.

We Don't Discourage Easily

Fulbright-Labor Feud Brews

By Victor Riesel

Behind the scenes a quiet but taut duel is being fought between Sen. J. William Fulbright and some mighty powerful legions of President Johnson's camp—the nation's labor leaders.

East is East and West, West. But the union chiefs want the twain to meet in the hearing room of Mr. Fulbright's Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

The labor movement's top officials and their own international affairs specialists have been urging the gentleman from Arkansas to take time out of his probes of the Viet Nam conflict and hold "thoroughgoing" hearings into the Communist Tri-Continental Conference held in Havana earlier this year.

Politely, but very firmly indeed, the senator rejected the written request of the AFL-CIO Executive Council, labor's highest policy-making presidium.

On March 4 the council's foreign affairs specialist, Jay Lovestone, head of the AFL-CIO's Department of International Affairs, wrote Mr. Fulbright.

THE GLOBE-TROTTER labor man explicitly pointed to a paragraph in the council's resolution urging the Fulbright committee to conduct "thoroughgoing hearings on the Havana Conference with the aim of enlightening the American people about its sinister aims and to propose constructive measures for defeating the Communist threat to peace and freedom in the Western Hemisphere."

On March 17, it now can be reported, Sen. Fulbright replied to Mr. Lovestone, saying that his committee had a very tough schedule and was quite occupied with the crisis in Asia.

In his letter Mr. Fulbright disclosed that his committee had been in close contact with the executive branch and was able to keep up with Communist activity in Latin America.

He added, the committee schedule was so tight that no new matters could be taken on. To insiders, this meant that Mr. Fulbright had turned down AFL-CIO President George Meany himself since Mr. Lovestone would most definitely not have moved without consulting his equally determined, anti-Communist chief.

MR. MEANY rarely is deflected from any cause or direction to which he is dedicated. Neither is Mr. Fulbright. So it is a matter of the immovable and irresistible again.

What concerns the AFL-CIO is the preparation by the Tri-Continental Communist Organization to hold another conference in Cuba early in 1967.

Not only is the tri-continental network aiming at guerrilla violence in such traditional hot cold-war battlefields as Venezuela and Bolivia but in Puerto Rico as well.

Support for such action in the U.S. island commonwealth was pledged to the conference by the chief Soviet delegate, Sharaf Rashidov, last Jan. 6. Russia, he said, is backing "liberation movements" in Latin America, including Puerto Rico.

Victor Riesel

Among those who cheered were the so-called Puerto Rican delegates. They were headed by one identified as Norman Pietri, frequently quoted as backing the Viet Cong.

SEÑOR PIETRI turns out to be a flamboyant speaker, running second to none in his vituperation of the U.S. Billing himself as the spokesman of the Pro-Independence Movement, he sounded, at the Havana conference, like a Lenin-era, politburo, agit-prop (agitation-propaganda) specialist.

An analysis of his major speech to the world Communist movement's tri-continental party on Jan. 10 has just been made available.

"Comrade President, comrade delegates," composed of the representatives of the Pro-Independence Movement, expresses fraternal thanks on behalf of our people. . . ."

Of course, Señor Pietri did not speak for the intensely loyal Puerto Ricans. But his small group can whip up turbulence. His speech bristled with attacks on the nine U.S. military and naval installations, the berthing of nuclear submarines, airfields, radar and training of special anti-guerrilla troops.

Pietri's long speech sounded ominous. It could be a warning of trouble to come on the prospering and peaceful island—especially with the next Tri-Continental Organization session due in nine months.

That is why the labor people want public Senate hearings.

The East is boiling. If we don't want the West to start bubbling, now is the time to turn off the heat, say the union men. So behind the scenes they're pouring on some heat of their own—on the gentleman from Arkansas.

Bad Picture?

By David Lawrence

Mexico Resents Some Films

Many Americans may have been surprised the other day to read that the Mexican government had banned certain films produced in Hollywood which portray Mexicans allegedly as bandits or buffoons. The Mexican government, through its consul general at Los Angeles, entered a protest also against other jocular references to Mexico by film stars over nationwide television.

All this could be brushed aside as oversensitiveness but actually it has a deeper meaning. The underlying problem is directly related to some of David Lawrence's difficulties the United States often encounters in its relations with other governments throughout the world.

No nation enjoys being lampooned, except perhaps by caricaturists of its own. It's a strange paradox, but understandable, that people of one race or nationality or religion do not mind being kidded by their own brethren but when a people as a whole are subjected to satire or humorous jibes by writers or film artists abroad, resentment usually arises.

THERE IS DIFFICULTY enough between governments in trying to understand each other's peoples. The American mind doesn't always understand the Latin mind, and vice versa. This, incidentally, may be one of the reasons for the misunderstandings between Gen. De Gaulle and the American government.

Films are seen by millions of people in all lands, and they do have a profound effect on the trends of public opinion. There is a significant reference to this in a book, just published, entitled The American Abel and His Brother Cain. It was written by George Bemberg, an Argentinian, and presents a portrait of the "guileless innocent American and his craftier, intractable old - world brother." Mr. Bemberg has degrees from American as well as European universities, speaks three languages and has lived six months during each of the last 15 years in the United States and spent the balance in various countries abroad. He writes:

"All too commonly Americans are judged by their behavior in films and their conduct in military bases abroad. Hollywood productions, however, are usually a caricature of America, and GI's are but homesick emissaries whose reactions are often consequential to their foreign environment."

"TO IDENTIFY an entire nation with its films and servicemen is not only a sign of obtuseness but also of ill will. One would do well to remember, however, that when judging the United States most foreigners yield to bias rather than resort to facts."

"Further, this kind of antagonism is bound to arise whenever an old culture is superseded by a young one. In this instance, the feeling is intensified if only because the United States as a continent - dimensioned country has weakened the physical significance of England, France and Italy as nations. In contrast with the vastness of America, these countries have been dwarfed to the anachronistic status of provinces."

This correspondent was in close contact with the Mexican people while writing about some of the revolutions of many years ago, and came to understand the feeling about foreign countries, especially since Mexico was beset by business interests at that time which seemed to have had only one aim — namely, exploitation.

ERRORS HAVE BEEN MADE by both Mexico and the United States over the years but there has been a trend recently toward a better understanding. It would be unfortunate if such progress were impaired by films that make fun of the people of Mexico or misrepresent that country's progress and development.

The opportunities for the peoples of Mexico and the United States to become closer and closer friends are increasing. The valuable resources to the south of our border can be steadily developed in Mexico and beyond with the aid and co-operation of this country.

Basically what is needed is a more enlightened attitude also toward the desire of all the peoples of Latin America to maintain their independence and to retain their own cultures.

As for adventures in self-criticism and satire, the Mexicans are capable of doing this for themselves. Some day, the Mexican people will fully understand that the attempts at humor in Hollywood were not, in truth, unfriendly but based upon a belief that neighbors do become such good friends that they may not mind a little kidding.

This 'n That

A nuclear gauge that measures snow melt accurately may provide quick flood and avalanche warnings. Developed by scientists at the Department of Agriculture with the radioisotope cesium-137, the gauge can measure density of a 10-foot snowpack in only 10 minutes. Previous methods required one hour for a comparable measurement.

Washington, D.C., might have had its own "leaning tower" if a proposed deep terracing of grounds around the Washington Monument had been carried out in 1901, the National Geographic says. Test borings later proved that removal of the spongy sand and clay would have undermined the shaft's foundation.

Modern man owes a great debt to ancient Mesopotamia. Its contributions include writing and law, the wheel and the true arch, razors, cosmetic sets and frying pans, shepherd's pipes and the harp and astrological charts.

Ohio Education Officials Hit

School Bus Purchasing Plan Ruled As 'Unlawful'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio education officials have been smacked down on centralized purchasing of school buses by a judge who has ruled their plan is "unlawful and unreasonable."

Problem: How to get new buses?

And it appears to be a whale of a dilemma, judging from reaction at the Ohio Department of Education, State Board of Education and attorney general's office to the finding Wednesday by Judge Henry L. Holden of Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Local school boards are on the horns of the dilemma.

If a solution isn't found quickly, officials say, local districts face a problem of "crisis" proportions in a shortage of transportation—especially of safe, reliable vehicles—as of next September.

Ohio's public schools, according to the education department, already are short 1,400 new buses without allowing for extension of bus service this fall to private and parochial pupils.

Holden ruled that the rules laid down by the State Board of Education to implement 1965 General Assembly legislation on school bus purchasing exceed the board's authority under the new law.

The judge said the law requires local school boards to handle the bidding and purchasing of school buses.

Under the plan he ruled illegal, local school boards would order through the state, which would lay down specifications and take combination bids from bus manufacturers.

Officials figured centralized buying would save $2,000 per bus.

Local school districts are hampered from buying individually, meanwhile, by a provision of the 1965 law requiring the state subsidies on which most boards depend to help buy buses to be based on the lowest price available.

Robert Duncan, chief counsel for the attorney general, said the ruling blocks use of $3 million appropriated for new buses this year.

Registration Set On Friday At Newell Jefferson School

Ernest John, principal of Jefferson School in Newell, announced today that pre-school registration will be conducted Friday from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Room 103.

All parents having children who will be six years of age prior to Nov. 1 and planning to send them to school in Newell are urged to attend, he said.

The child's birth certificate and immunization card must be provided. Those pupils not receiving vaccination and immunization prior to the end of the first month of school will not be permitted to remain in school, John explained.

Information concerning diseases which the child may have had previously is also required, along with dates, he said.

Mrs. Mary Fluharty, elementary supervisor for Hancock County schools, will be on hand in the library, Room 106, to explain the new reading system.

Tea will be served by members of the Parent-Teacher Association in the lower corridor.

Those arriving early may begin the registration process at 1:30 and those arriving after the scheduled registration period may register following the tea, he added.

Talent Contest Set Saturday By Youth For Christ

The annual Columbiana County Youth for Christ "Talentica" will be held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Salvation Army auditorium.

The categories include club speaker, songleader, pianist, vocal soloist, instrumental soloist, vocal group and instrumental group. Those in grades 9 to 12 are eligible to compete. Seventh and eighth graders are permitted to enter for experience, but are not eligible for awards.

The winners in each category, if the judges feel they are qualified, will compete in Ohio competition at Kent State University in June during the Ohio YFC convention.

Winners in the state of Ohio then will compete at the Youth for Christ International convention at Winona Lake, Ind., July 1-10. The top three winners in each category there will be eligible for a 10-day tour in July through Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York and Illinois. They also will receive $500 and $200 scholarships.

Anyone interested in entering the contests must register by Friday by calling the YFC office or by writing to Box 54 in East Liverpool.

Also included in Saturday's rally will be the Junior High quiz playoff between Beaver Local Jerry's and Hopewell, who tied in the tournament.

Chester Fair Plans Pushed By Firemen

Fourteen regular Chester firemen attended a meeting Wednesday night at the station during which Robert Kincaid was appointed parade chairman for the department's annual fair July 25-30. The parade will be held July 29.

Rodney Coen of Florida Ave. was accepted as a regular member, having completed a year's probation period.

Paul Doughty reported on new making requirements for trucks carrying explosive or flammable cargos. The firemen authorized letters to be sent to West Virginia congressmen supporting a bill which would provide for additional marking notices on such cargos to assist firemen in emergencies involving such vehicles.

Amendments to the bylaws concerning honorary memberships were approved on first reading.

It was announced a Hancock County fire school will be held at New Cumberland May 21-22 from 1 to 5 p.m.

A contribution of $25 was authorized for the Cancer Fund. Starting June 2, the department will meet on Thursday nights.

A practice session was held at 6 p.m. for the firemen.

Couple Jailed For 'Neglect' Of 3 Children

An East Liverpool district couple accused of neglecting three children by leaving them in a parked car outside a California Hollow tavern after midnight must spend 10 days in County Jail, Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin ruled Wednesday afternoon.

Lawrence Weddle and his wife, Helen, were arraigned before the judge on an affidavit signed by Juvenile Officer James Miller alleging that they "contributed to the neglect" of the youngsters, aged 3, 5 and 6.

The judge sentenced the pair to 60 days in jail, but suspended 50 days of the sentence. He placed their children in custody of the County Welfare Department. The children are being cared for by a relative while the parents are in jail.

County authorities said the case began Wednesday at 12:30 a.m. when the sheriff's office at Lisbon received a telephone call from a woman who said three small children had been left unattended in a car outside Higg's Inn.

Deputy Herman (Cy) Wellman, who investigated, confirmed that the youngsters were in the auto and then went inside the tavern to investigate. He found Mr. and Mrs. Weddle seated in a booth. She was holding a 5-month-old baby, authorities said.

Authorities said the couple admitted their three older youngsters had been in the auto about an hour. The motor was running, authorities said.

Hunger-plagued India suffers from a lack of good farm land. Part of the northwest is a desert; central India forms a hilly, brush-clad plateau. Only the coastal strips and the Ganges plain in the north offer level, arable acres.

Youngsters Warned On Damage To Signs

Youngsters who damage city-owned signs, including traffic control devices, are liable to charges of malicious destruction of property, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey warned today.

Vodrey said he has been advised of incidents in which youngsters defaced or removed city markers, including stop signs. Some of the signs that were removed from standards cannot be replaced immediately, because they were carried away, he added.

Paint has been sprayed on some traffic control signs, altering their meaning, he added. The director pointed out removal of a stop sign at North St. and Jennings Ave. was blamed as a contributing factor in a traffic mishap Wednesday.

Skilled artisans of the Ivory Coast still carve the handsome elephant-tusk figurines that gave their country its name. Economic advance has changed most of the nation's other traditional ways, however. Abidjan, a fisherman's camp at the turn of the century, has fluorescent - lit highways with cloverleaves and gleaming buildings reminiscent of Miami Beach.

Born Wednesday Die

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two of the quadruplets born to Cira Garcia, a 30-year-old housewife, died Wednesday night at Calixto Garcia Hospital in Havana, the Cuban radio reported.

The mother and other two babies, a boy and a girl, are doing well, said the Miami-monitored broadcast.

The father, Jose Marcos, 39, is a farm worker. The couple, married 15 years, have three other children.

Legion At Newell Picks Delegates For 'Boys State'

Delegates to the 1966 Boys State at Jackson Mills June 26 to July 2 were selected during a meeting of Newell American Legion Post 114 Wednesday night.

Named were Carmen Laneve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony F. Laneve of Grant St., and Robert Vukas, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Vukas of Harrison St. Both are juniors at Oak Glen High School.

The post voted to participate in the annual Hancock County Youth Conservation Camp program by giving local boys and girls the opportunity to attend. It will be June 10-11 at Tomlinson Run State Park.

The post draped the charter in memory of the late Harry Lytton. Members will meet to night at 8 to pay respects at the Martin Funeral Home.

Donald Delong was named chairman of the nominating committee. He will select the committee members who will prepare a slate of officers for election in July.

Dewaine Staley, commander, conducted business. The post will meet again next Wednesday night.

Interest paid on consumer debts totaled an estimated $20 billion last year.

WVU To Receive $1 Million Grant

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) —

West Virginia University will receive a $1 million grant from the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation of Pittsburgh, the Foundation announced today.

WVU President Paul A. Miller said the grant, to be paid in $200,000 installments from 1966 through 1970, "will enable the institution to place emphasis on certain academic areas of particular significance to the University's development."

Acting Provost Robert F. Munn said plans are still being formulated for utilizing the money, but part "will surely be used in the critical areas of the social and behavioral sciences."

The grant, which must be matched dollar-for-dollar by the University, will be used to establish "The Claude Worthington Benedum Fund for Academic Excellence."

WVU said it plans to raise its matching share by alumni subscription, and solicitation of funds from industries in West Virginia, other foundations and individuals.

More than 400 women from the six-county diocese are expected to attend the 21st convention of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women Tuesday at St. Alloysius Catholic Church.

The theme will be "Peace Through Unity." Activities will begin with a 10:30 a. m. Mass, with Msgr. Clarence Haller of St. James Church in Warren as celebrant. He is the DCCW moderator.

Talks on three Vatican Council decrees will be given, with Msgr. Joseph Koch of St. Patrick's in Kent discussing "ecumenism;" Fr. John Sargent, assistant pastor at the Immaculate Conception Parish of Ravenna, "the nature of the church;" and Mrs. Marcus Kilch, president of the National Council of Catholic Women, "the lay apostolate."

Officers Elected By Mothers Club At Beaver Local

Mrs. Delores Charlton was elected president of the Beaver Local Mothers Club during a meeting Wednesday noon at the school library. She succeeds Mrs. Margaret Duffy.

Others named are: Mrs. Lois Dickey, vice president; Mrs. Lucille Robertson, secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Marshall, treasurer.

This was the final meeting of the year. Miss Betty Newton, home economist for the Ohio Valley Gas Co., spoke on Pennsylvania Dutch cooking and screened a film.

A coverdish dinner was served. The group opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer.

A coverdish luncheon will be held when meetings resume in October.

Penalty Given Man In Crash

A 21-year-old Salineville man originally cited on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol was fined $25 and costs today in Municipal Court after he pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of reckless driving.

The reckless driving charge was substituted for the original count against John Allen Davis of Salineville R.D. 3, cited by police following a collision between his auto and a truck Saturday night at E. 5th St. and Broadway. He was represented by George A. Aronson.

Three truckers cited April 28 on charges of improper registration were instructed to pay court costs after the court was advised all three vehicles now have been licensed in Ohio.

The defendants were Jimmy Max Glover of Raleigh, N. C., Leonard Pratt of Westfield, Pa., and George Crawford of 1106 1/2 Commerce St., Wellsville. Police said they were driving trucks with out-of-state license tags while working on erection of a CATV cable here.

Meanwhile, Robert C. Brown, a Beaver trucker, forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge he crashed a traffic light this morning at 8:05 at 3rd and Market Sts. He was cited by Patrolman William A. Devon, police said.

Davis Appointed To K. Of C. Post

Emeric P. Davis of 1220 Beaver Ave., Midland, was named state warden during the Knights of Columbus 68th annual Pennsylvania state convention in Harrisburg Saturday through Tuesday.

Davis, a partner in business with Anthony Martell in Martell's Men's and Boys' Wear, is also chairman of the press committee.

He served as grand knight of Midland Council 2005 from 1956-58, as district deputy of the 49th Pennsylvania District 1958-60, received the district deputy award at the 1960 state convention and was recording secretary of the Western Pennsylvania board of district deputies.

Appointed district deputy by state deputy John F. Cooney, he served Councils Midland 2005, Father Reid 2194, Beaver Valley 604 and instituted Father Keating Council 4940.

After serving as president of the Beaver Valley Chapter from 1960-62, he was appointed Pennsylvania state chairman of Public Relations by state deputy Dr. William J. Costello.

One of the organizers of the Bishop Wright projects, Davis is a member of its advisory board and was chairman of the board 1961-62.

Meeting Scheduled

Midland Chamber Plans Industrial Sites Booklet

A move to attract new, diversified industry to the Midland area is about to be initiated by the Midland Area Chamber of Commerce.

The first step is scheduled next Wednesday night when the Chamber discusses plans for preparing a comprehensive brochure on industrial development potential.

Lester C. Smith, Chamber president, said John Joseph, chairman of the Western Beaver County Development Committee, has been asked to attend the meeting to discuss the proposed brochure.

The brochure will attempt to answer four major questions that need to be answered before asking a new industry to move into the area, Smith said.

These questions are:
Do the people want an industry enough to invest money toward bringing it here?

Is there enough land and water available?

Is the labor market large enough to provide employees for the industry?

Are there ample housing facilities for the added families that move in with the industry? Smith commented, "a number of problems are involved when trying to attract new industry. Ample land and water facilities are needed, along with a good labor force. Housing facilities usually take care of themselves, because people can commute to a job from surrounding vicinities."

However, he explained, "The biggest problem faced is the willingness of a community to invest money into the venture. Some manufacturing firms require a factory to be already built so they may move into it and lease it. The people must want a new company bad enough to risk the money to build these facilities."

"Another factor is the tax rate a company may have to pay to operate in a community. In some instances, the community must give a concern a break on the taxes over the first few years of operation until the company gets on its feet."

Analyzing the local situation, Smith said he isn't too sure of what is in the offing for attracting industry. He explained:

"There is a lot of land available in southern Beaver County, but the water is scarce. Ohioville has land for industrial expansion and water, but no railroads. Industry and Midland seem to be lacking in land unless some sites can be cleared. Of course, this is merely conjecture on my part. I'm not that familiar with the land area to offer an out and out judgment."

A committee will be appointed soon, including some members of the Western Beaver County Development Committee, to study the possibilities for industrial sites.

"One possibility would be a small stainless steel manufacturer which would have a close, ready-made product source provided by the Crucible Steel Co. A company of this nature could save on trucking or shipping of the specialized steel it needs for the finished product, since Crucible would have it available in easy reach," Smith said.

Pointing to the need for co-operation on the part of various officials in surrounding communities, Smith said each borough will be asked to send a representative to serve on the planning committee.

Included in the brochure will be pictures of the industrial sites, descriptions of the advantages of settling on the site and detailed reports of the labor force and housing facilities. "If we can develop an attractive brochure, I am positive we can induce diversified industry into the area to benefit all of Western and Southern Beaver County," Smith concluded.

Salineville PTA Sets Talent Show

SALINEVILLE — A home talent show will be sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association Friday night at 8 at the Salineville Grade School.

James Raffle, general chairman, said the program will include instrumental and vocal music, pantomimes and dances, with J. Warren Bettis master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Florence Bently, president, said proceeds will be used for school needs.

Weirton Area Scouts Will Attend Meeting

WEIRTON — Seventeen Eagle Scouts from the Weir-Cove district of the Fort Steuben Area Council of the Boy Scouts will be teamed up for an evening with 17 business and professional men during the third annual Eagle Recognition Dinner at the Fort Steuben Hotel next Monday.

Richard Hollingsbaugh, chairman for the banquet which will begin at 6:30, said the program is designed to let each boy spend the evening with a man who is in the field the boy hopes to enter.

The speaker will be Dr. Paul N. Elbin, president of the Liberty State College.

The Norfolk Naval Shipyard, oldest in the United States, was founded in 1767, 31 years before the creation of the United States Navy Department.

Officer Attends New State Class For Instructors

Lt. Kenneth H. Mooney attended a "retraining session" Wednesday at Worthington, near Columbus, for officials who will serve as instructors for newly appointed Ohio law enforcement officers.

The local officer previously had studied 160 hours in the state-sponsored course. He is one of 96 officers in Ohio qualified as an instructor under the program of the Ohio Peace Officers Training Council.

A new state law which became effective Jan. 1 requires a minimum of 120 hours' training before the appointment of any new Ohio officer can be made permanent. Mooney will serve as an instructor for the new officers in the statewide program.

The instructors' training is under the direction of the State Department of Education and the Ohio Peace Officers Training Council. Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan is coordinator for the program in Columbiana County.

District Youth Heads Army Unit

Jeffrey L. Scarbino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scarbino of Irondale, has been selected squad leader of his unit in basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He entered the Army April 13.

Mrs. Margaret Hart has returned from Washington, where she attended the funeral of her brother, Harvey Diggs.

Mrs. Charles Nicholson has returned from a visit with her daughter, Miss Dana K. Nicholson of Oxon Hill, Md.

Miss Judith Ferry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ferry of Saline St., is a patient at St. John's Hospital, Steubenville.

2 Youths Are Honored During Key Club Event

Dave Emmerling was named "Key Clubber of the Year" and Jack Linville "Rookie of the Year" during the annual appreciation banquet of the ELHS Key Club Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

Emmerling is shown being congratulated by Carl Pelini, high school principal, who presented the awards during the program, which also included installation of the 1966-67 officers.

Emmerling, who has been a member of the club for two years, was recognized "for his great effort of leadership in the movement the past year" and Linville, a member for one year, "for his promotion of leadership and service the past year."

Lloyd Babb, a club adviser, installed the officers: Tom Ash, president, who succeeds Emmerling; Dale Jones, vice president; Phil Snyder, secretary, and Don Edgar, treasurer.

The retiring officers received pins which were presented to them by their mothers and the new officers were presented pins from the retiring officers.

Fred Cope, athletic director at Salem High School, was guest speaker. Introduced by Gary Schneidmiller, retiring secretary, he discussed the 1936 Olympics in Germany.

Emmerling introduced the seniors and also gave brief remarks. The purpose of the dinner was explained by Dave Tobin, retiring vice president.

The invocation was given by Dave Maple, retiring treasurer, and the farewell address by Emmerling.

Tables were decorated in the club colors, blue and gold, and arrangements of gold mums and iris completed the setting.

2 To Represent Carroll Council At State Meeting

William E. McCormack, grand knight of Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, and John Johnston will attend the K. of C. convention at Columbus May 28, at which time they will present a scroll to John W. McDevitt, supreme knight.

The scroll will contain the signatures of members of the local council who have attended Mass and received Holy Communion for the intention of McDevitt's "good of the order" program.

Members signed the scroll during Tuesday night's meeting at the K. of C. home. The scroll will remain at the home for those who have not signed.

James McGowan was named to obtain a film of the Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers football championship game for screening later.

Fr. William Lawler, pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, chaplain of the council, spoke briefly.

Midland Band Kent Branch Group Elects Here To Hold Art Festival

The Midland Band Boosters Club elected officers and completed plans for the spring banquet during a meeting Wednesday night at Lincoln High School.

Elected were Mrs. Maurice Newman, president; Mrs. Joseph Roszler, first vice president; Frank Sepos, second vice president; Mrs. William Marcum, secretary; Richard Bailey, treasurer, and Mrs. Stephen Crano, corresponding secretary.

Trustees appointed are Mrs. Milan Viakley, Frank Pedro, Mrs. Frank Lavrusky, Mrs. Stephen Francis, Mrs. Joseph Prodonovich and Mrs. Charles Schmitt.

Mrs. Sullivan Tonti was elected club historian.

Mrs. Richard Bailey, Mrs. William Marcum and Mrs. William Orr were named to an auditing committee.

The banquet will be May 14 at the Serbian National Home and will honor the graduating seniors. Mrs. Tonti is chairman for the dinner.

Mrs. Pedro reported on the skating party held for the band members at the Melody Roller Rink April 24. Fifty-two members and guests attended.

The next meeting will be June 9 at the high school music forum when officers will be installed. After the ceremonies, the club will hold a supper at the Flying Carpet Restaurant on Route 51. Mrs. Bailey is chairman for the event.

Election Board Opens Official Count Of Vote

The County Election Board convened this morning at its office on W. 6th St. to begin the official canvass of returns from the primary elections Tuesday.

The staff said several days will be required to finish the count. The figures then will be certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

The tabulation made shortly after the polls closed Tuesday night was complete, but unofficial. The official count produces the figures which are certified to the secretary of state.

Car Kills Man, 46

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Miss Julia Corretti, 46, of Pittsburgh's Lawrenceville section was fatally injured by an auto Wednesday while crossing a street near her home.

Dance will be held Saturday at the Saxon Club at Salem for students of the East Liverpool, Warren, Ashtabula, Canton and Salem centers.

Baseball Figure Dies

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Domenica Richi

Mrs. Domenica Richi, 82, of 235 3rd St., Wellsville, a former grocery store operator and widow of Rocco Richi, died Wednesday at 12:45 p. m. at the home after a lingering illness.

She was born Nov. 5, 1883, at Reggio, Calabria, Italy, a daughter of the late Rocco Oliveria and Antoinetta Richichi Oliveria. She came to Wellsville on Dec. 23, 1910. For 42 years she operated the grocery store, retiring in 1960. She was a member of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church of Wellsville. Her husband died Feb. 8, 1920.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. David (Lena) Davidson, at home, Mrs. Mary Yanko, Mrs. Harry (Jenny) Hammond and Mrs. Earl (Roxie) Murray, all of Wellsville; a son, Charles Richi, also of Wellsville; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Longo of Wellsville, Mrs. Josephine Borrelli and Mrs. Giovanna Foca, both of Italy; six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Prayer services will be held Friday at 8 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by Fr. Gerald X. Curran, who will also be celebrant for Requiem High Mass Saturday at 10 a. m. at the church. Burial will be in St. Elizabeth Cemetery, Wellsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Friday after 3 p. m.

William Kimberling

LISBON — William W. Kimberling, 81, of Lisbon R. D. 4, a retired employee of the Ohio Edison Plant in Toronto, died this morning at 2 at the Hutton Nursing Home in Salem after an illness of five years.

He was born in Bristol, Va., Aug. 28, 1884, a son of the late Dr. John Kimberling and Mary Horn Kimberling. He had resided in this vicinity for 36 years. He retired in 1950. He was a member of the Beaver St. Church of Christ in Lisbon. He was married to the former Lillie Garland in 1919 who survives at the home.

He is also survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruby Moxley of Damascus, Md., and Mrs. Jack Burch of Salem R. D.; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Ousgood of Winter Garden, Fla., and seven grandchildren. He was preceded in death by twin sons.

Services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Ellis-Leggett Funeral Home in Lisbon. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery, Hanoverton.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Harry Lytton

Services for Harry Lytton of 522 Grant St., Newell, who died Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Martin Funeral Home.

The Rev. Charles W. Haddock of the Newell First Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery, Chester.

Mr. Lytton worked at the Homer Laughlin China Co. for 40 years and was a justice of the peace in Newell. He was a member of American Legion Post 114 of Newell.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Friday.

William Hissom

William C. Hissom, formerly of New Cumberland R. D. 2, died this morning at University Hospital in Cleveland. He had been living with a son, Charles Hissom of Mentor, Ohio.

His wife, Mrs. Ethel May Hissom, died March 16, 1964.

The Chester Armer Funeral Chapel is serving funerals.

Report Is Given On Fire School

SUMMITVILLE — A report on the fire school held at East Palestine was presented by Paul Dowdell, chief, during a meeting of the Franklin Township volunteer fire department trustees Wednesday night.

Three men attended the school. Bills totaling $80 were ordered paid.

Forrest Young, president, conducted business and John Wargo, secretary-treasurer, gave the financial report.

Young said the fire numbers in the new 1966 General Telephone Co. book are correct, explaining they had been wrong in a previous issue.

Dean Dowdell, president of the Summitville Civic Improvement Council, discussed plans for the homecoming parade June 24, held jointly with the firemen. Posters were displayed.

The trustees will meet again June 1.

Trustees Will Meet

SUMMITVILLE — The Franklin Township trustees will meet Saturday at 2 p. m. at the township hall.

Officers Cite City Man, 65, In Car Crash

Officers cited a 65-year-old East Liverpool man on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol following a two-way traffic mishap Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. on E. 3rd St. at Apple Alley.

The charge was filed against John J. Pardell of 408 E. 3rd St. after a collision between his 1960 sedan and another 1960 model auto operated by Roger R. Montblau of Derry, N. H.

Montblau's car was in a line of traffic halted on E. 3rd St. for a traffic signal at Broadway when Pardell backed from Apple Alley and struck the side of the New Hampshire car, police said.

The mishap damaged the right rear of Montblau's car. There was no apparent damage to Pardell's auto, police said. The local man said he intended to turn around and then pull into a parking place. He was cited by Patrolmen Karl Samples and Paul Blevins.

Arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Pardell requested a continuance to allow him to obtain counsel. His case was continued until Tuesday at 9 a. m. and his bond was set at $500.

A missing stop sign was blamed for a collision Wednesday at Jennings Ave. and North St.

The mishap involved a 1964 model station wagon driven by Ruth A. Lovas, 44, of 1065 Jennings Ave. and a 1958 four-door sedan operated by Ellen E. Prescott, 63, of 242 W. 5th St., officers said.

The Lovas car was moving north on Jennings Ave. and the Prescott car was headed east on North St. The Jennings Ave. woman said the Prescott car proceeded through the intersection and she was unable to halt in time to avoid a crash.

Patrolman Paul A. Burson Jr., who investigated, said a stop sign formerly in place at North St. and Jennings Ave. had been removed by some unknown person.

A motorcycle was damaged in another mishap Wednesday at E. 4th St. and Broadway.

William L. Tittle, 17, of 1211 Cora St. told police the front fender of his motorcycle was struck by a backing auto while halted at the intersection. He said the driver of the backing car apparently was attempting to allow another car access to a parking spot. Police said the auto which struck the motorcycle was a 1957 sedan driven by Mike Malone. They did not list his address.

Midland Erects 19 Warning Signs

The Midland street department erected 19 signs Wednesday warning motorists they are nearing playground and swimming pool areas and to drive cautiously, Matt Brozic has announced.

Fifteen signs directing motorists they are entering playground and bicycle riding areas were placed on 4th, 6th and 7th Sts. at Ohio Ave.; 7th and 8th Sts. at Virginia Ave.; 12th St. at Ohio Ave.; 13th St. at Virginia Ave.; Beaver Ave., Ohio Ave. and Midland Ave.; 10th St. at Midland Ave.; at Springlane facing the 1st St. playground and at the end of the playground facing Midland on Route 68; at Park Place East and Midland Ave., and two locations in Midland Heights near the first parking lot.

Four signs near the swimming pool have been installed on 10th St. at Ohio and Virginia Avenues, on 12th St. at Virginia Ave. and on the Hillcrest Road.

Jury Awards $9,000 To Wife And Husband

LISBON — A verdict totaling $9,000 was awarded by a Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday afternoon to an East Liverpool couple as a result of an auto mishap in 1962.

Ruby E. Hooper and her husband, Arnold, had sought damages for injuries suffered by the woman in a crash with an auto operated by Theodore Reese of East Liverpool R. D. 3 against whom the action was filed.

The jury yesterday awarded $7,000 to Mrs. Hooper and $2,000 to her husband. Judge Joel H. Sharp presided.

390 Are Registered In Pre-School Signup

There were 390 children registered for first grade in a pre-school registration held Wednesday in East Liverpool schools. Last year the pre-school registration was 326.

The registration by schools follows: Garfield, 25; Glenmoor, 43; Horace Mann, 43; Klondyke, 19; LaCroft, 39; Lincoln, 48; McKinley, 24; Neville, 23; Pleasant Heights, 35; Taft, 20, and Westgate, 71.

Ohio Reapportionment Cost Both Parties 19 Lawmakers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first primary election under reapportionment cost both parties 19 veteran lawmakers and pitted several against each other in tough races next fall.

Ten Republican and nine Democratic incumbents lost bids for nomination to the new 99-member House and 33-member Senate whose membership was reduced to meet U.S. Supreme Court "one man, one vote" edicts.

Senate losers included Ross Pepple, Republican serving his eighth term. Pepple, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, moved from Lima to Perrysburg to run in the new 1st District composed of the counties of Williams, Fulton, DeWitt, Henry, Wood and part of Lucas. He lost the nomination to Howard C. Cook of Toledo.

Two Democratic senators also lost nominations. They were Ray T. Miller Jr., Cleveland, in the 21st District and Danny D. Johnson, New Philadelphia, in the 30th.

Miller is a son of the former

Cuyahoga County Democratic chairman.

On the House side, nine Republicans and seven Democrats lost nominations for new terms. They included:

Republicans—Terry E. Drake, Galion, 15th District, Judiciary Committee Chairman Edmund G. James, Caldwell, 29th District, and D. O. Tabor, Gallipolis, 27th District.

Financial Institutions Committee Chairman Carol D. Long, Urbana, 8th District, and Highways Committee Chairman William C. Games, West Union, 20th District.

Raymond F. Lusk, Columbus Grove, 5th District, and A.K. Wilson, Somerset, 28th District. Democrats — Joseph J. Horvath, Cleveland, 43rd District, Maurice C. Brown, Lorain, 74th District, and Julius A. Krupansky, Cleveland, 48th District.

William J. Carney, Youngstown, 82nd District.

William L. Elliott, Malta, 29th District; Henry T. Dombrowski, Cleveland, 45th District, and Miss Mary E. McGowan, Akron, 94th District.

Wallace's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wallace, who resided at 1718 Smithfield St. He attended grade school and high school here and was graduated from Westminster College, New Wilmington, Pa. He is married to the former Martha Cochran, also of East Liverpool.

Universal C.I.T. finances the sale of automobiles, trucks, mobile homes, pleasure boats, low cost homes and other products. In most states it also makes personal loans.

Wallace joined C.I.T. at Richmond, Va., in 1946 and moved to the Detroit factory relations department in 1956. He was named assistant vice president in 1959 and vice president in 1962. The department maintains a liaison between C.I.T. and the automobile manufacturers.

The Wallaces have two sons — Jeffrey, 20, and Peter, 17. Currently, they reside at 2691 Broadway Blvd., Birmingham, Mich., but will be moving to the New York area.

Athletes Given Honors In Fete At Beaver Local

Athletes in all seventh- and eighth-grade sports and the cheerleaders were feted at the Beaver Local Public School All-Sports banquet Wednesday night.

Mrs. Evelyn Copestick was chairman. The Rev. Richard Shipley gave the invocation. Frank Copestick Jr., past president of the Boosters Club, introduced guests and speakers.

Speaking were Urban Petros, principal and athletic director; William Baker, eighth-grade football coach; Gary Williams, seventh-grade football coach; Clyde Pritchett, eighth-grade basketball coach; Larry Vermillion, seventh-grade basketball coach, and Miss Mildred Wise, cheerleader sponsor.

The Boosters Club will sponsor a spring all-sports banquet May 12 at 6 p. m. at the high school. Mrs. Patsy Havice is chairman.

The next project of the Boosters will be a spring fair May 26-28 at the public school. James Burcham is chairman.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I have written you about this problem three times but you have never printed my letters. If you know how desperate I am, you'd help me.

I'm the girl from Quebec with the clammy hands. I'm 15 years old and I loathe dances because I hate to have a fellow feel my sweaty palms. When I'm introduced to an adult I know I should shake hands, but I nod instead because of my problem. I'm becoming so self-conscious it's spoiling my whole life. Before you say I'm nuts please let me explain that it isn't just a little dampness that I am writing about. My hands really get wringing wet — as if I had held them under a running faucet.

A couple of years ago I thought I'd outgrown it but it's getting worse instead of better. Please help me. — DESPERATE.

Dear Desperate: If you have not seen a skin doctor I recommend it. He can prescribe medication that will reduce the perspiration.

If you continue to be conscious of your hands, wear wrist-length gloves. If this doesn't put your mind at ease, you have an obsession (which means an abnormal fix) and a head doctor is the only answer.

Junior Mister

Dear Ann: Thirty years ago my wife and I proudly named our first-born after me. We called him Junior throughout his school years. So did everyone else.

Several months ago I began to receive mail which was obviously meant for him. The envelope read Mr. 2M. No Jr. appeared as part of the name. I asked my son about it and he said, "I'm sick of this Junior stuff. It's okay for kids, but when you're grown up it's ridiculous. I decided to drop the Jr. and call myself Mr. 2M." I was shocked and hurt. I'm a Jr. and was proud to be called Junior until my father passed away. I'm also upset because my son has been signing legal documents without the Jr. and I fear they may not be valid.

What do you know about this? Please advise me. — SAD SENIOR.

Dear Sad: I don't know nearly as much as a lawyer and I urge you to consult one.

If your son dislikes the Jr. for emotional reasons that's one thing, but there may be some legal complications, and if there are they should be ironed out, pronto.

Superstitious Bride

Dear Ann: My grandson will be married in a few weeks. In France, where I grew up, a black dress was considered appropriate for a wedding.

When I told the bride I planned to wear a black dress she became very upset. She said black is not worn at American weddings — and, furthermore, she is superstitious about it. She says it will bring bad luck.

I'm short and stout and black dresses look best on me. I feel insulted and think perhaps I should stay at home. What do you say? — SPOKANE.

Dear Spokane: Although black is considered appropriate for American weddings (if you are not in the wedding party), I hope you will comply with the girl's wishes and wear something else. This is little enough to do to please a bride on her wedding day.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Figures Listed In Beaver County On Sale Of Bonds

Beaver counties have purchased $2,063,403 in Series E and H Savings Bonds for the first quarter of the year.

This represents 25 per cent of the county's quota for the year and places it among 67 in Pennsylvania that have reached the quarter mark.

Purchases of bonds throughout the State total $111,500,000. 17.7 per cent of the number purchased in the first quarter of 1965.

Charles S. Krumrine, chairman for the state's bond organization, reported a sale of $40,384,000 during March, a 4.7 per cent increase over last year's March sales.

Official U.S. Dept. of Agriculture grades of beef most likely to be available to consumers are Prime, Choice, Good, Standard, Commercial and Utility.

Ike Enters Hospital For Routine Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has entered Walter Reed Army

Medical Center for what spokesman described as a "routine checkup."

An aide to Eisenhower said on Wednesday the five-star general was expected to return to his farm home near Gettysburg, Pa., today.

Eisenhower suffered a heart attack last Nov. 9 while in Augusta, Ga., but he told newsmen Wednesday he felt fine. The former president said his golfing has been curtailed almost entirely.

Gulls are long-winged swimming birds, noted for their powers of flight.

The committee will meet Monday at 5:30 p. m. at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.'s offices on W. 6th St. to choose this year's winners of scholarship aid from among more than 100 applications received by May 1, the deadline for applications.

Students selected will receive aid to attend the school, college or university of their choice, including trade and vocational schools and two-year colleges.

Applicants will be judged by the committee on their financial need, scholarship, leadership and initiative, according to a formula designed by the Citizens Scholarship Foundation of America, which has its national headquarters in Boston.

Officers Elected By Mothers Club At Rogers School

ROGERS — Mrs. Larry Hostetter of Depot St. was elected president of the Mothers Club during a meeting Tuesday at the Rogers School. She succeeds Mrs. Frank Lewis Jr.

Others elected were Mrs. Albert Suffolk, vice president; Mrs. George Reeder, secretary; Mrs. Robert Shingleton, treasurer, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Suffolk presided in the absence of Mrs. Lewis.

A revised edition of the constitution and bylaws was approved.

Discussion was held on a proposed merger of the Parent-Teacher Association and the Mothers Club, with the club voting against merger at the present time.

Plans were discussed for the PTA meeting Monday night at 7 at the school, a bake sale May 20 at the Rogers Community Sale, with Mrs. Hostetter as chairman, and the final day of school June 3 for which a picnic lunch and party is planned for the children.

The club will meet June 7, with installation planned.

Bell, Fraud Figure, Released From Prison

DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—Earl Belle, a young financier who fled the United States in 1958 when his Pittsburgh-based business empire began falling apart, was released today from the Federal Correctional Institution.

Belle, now 34, returned from Brazil voluntarily in 1964 to plead guilty to 26 counts of falsifying financial records and fraud.

He was sentenced in July 1964 to 2½ years at the Federal Correctional Institution.

Queen Mother Back In London After Trip

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth returned today from a six-week sunshine tour of Australia, New Zealand and Fiji. She landed in bleak weather that had 150 welcomers blowing on their hands and marching around to keep warm on the airport runway.

Waiting in the lounge with the official welcoming party was Princess Margaret.

There were about 1,200 toy manufacturing plants in the nation last year compared with 1,397 in 1958, the Commerce Department reports.

Medical Figure Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. John B. Barnwell, 71, former director of research and medical education of the Veterans Administration, which he joined in 1946, died Wednesday. He was internationally known in the field of tuberculosis.

Sixteen federal agencies are charged with highway safety functions.

110 Attend Lisbon Banquet; Other Groups Hold Meetings

LISBON — One hundred ten mothers and daughters of St. Jacob's United Church of Christ attended the covered banquet in their honor Monday night at the church.

Mrs. Brent Thompson of Salem served as mistress of ceremonies, with men of the church in charge of serving.

The tribute to mothers and daughters was given by Miss Sherry Tullis and her mother, Mrs. Richard Tullis.

Mrs. Minnie Figley of Leontonia was presented a gift as the oldest mother present. Gifts also were given to Mrs. Harley Welker, the most daughters, 3, and the most granddaughters, 4, present; Mrs. Ring, mother of the Rev. William Ring, for having traveled the farthest — Chicago; Mrs. David Hephner, youngest mother; Jennifer Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mitchell of Salem, youngest daughter present.

Musical selection were presented by the "Furnished Flats," men's quartet of Alliance.

Legion Auxiliary Meets
Mrs. Thomas Tucker was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday night, succeeding Mrs. Charles Hill.

Also named were: Mrs. Vernon Flora Jr., first vice president; Mrs. Thomas Gallo, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Neel, secretary, and Mrs. Kenneth Kodrich, treasurer.

A donation of $30 to the Lisbon Humorettes was approved for the purchase of candy for patients of the Sandusky Soldiers and Sailors Home, when they present their annual program there.

The annual poppy days will be observed May 27-28.

The Columbiana County Girls State delegates and their mothers get acquainted tea will be held at the Legion home May 22.

The next regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be June 6.

Co.-Club Holds Meeting

Fred Brennen of East Liverpool served as auctioneer during the Lisbon Coin Club meeting Tuesday night at Democratic headquarters, with 30 members and one guest present.

Richard Zittler of Beaver and Harry Glavan of East Palestine served as hosts.

Prizes were awarded Earl Ohnzeit of East Liverpool, Vernon Rutherford of Salem, Mel Smith of Wellsville, R. J. Zittler of Beaver, H. L. Glavan of East Palestine, Mrs. John Haines, Mrs. Esther De Temple, George Stopper, Paul Smith, James Smith, Tony Gallo, Mrs. Essel Hadley and Mrs. James Smith, all of Lisbon.

The next meeting will be June 7.

Gamble Named Head Of Carnival Planning

William Gamble was appointed chairman of the Newell volunteer firemen's carnival committee during a meeting Monday night at the station.

He replaces Gene Lytton, who was granted a 30-day leave of absence.

Chief Earl Flesch announced that a school on pumps, hydraulics and ladders will be held in New Cumberland May 21 and 22.

Charles Jackson was accepted as a member of the fire company on a one-year trial basis. Hillman May presided.

Motorist Fined $100 And Given Jail Term

NEW CUMBERLAND — Dale Carl Gilmore, 32, of Aliquippa was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 30 days in the Hancock County Jail for driving while under the influence of alcohol at a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron.

Gilmore's driving privileges were revoked for six months in the state. He was cited Saturday by West Virginia state police.

Pulitzer Prize Winner

Peter Arnett To Address Ohio AP Society May 14

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Associated Press correspondent who won a Pulitzer Prize this week for his coverage of the Viet Nam War was named today as featured speaker for a meeting of The Associated Press Society of Ohio.

He is Peter Arnett, 31-year-old New Zealander whose battlefield reporting made him the third Associated Press staffer in three years to win one of journalism's top honors.

Arnett will speak at a banquet May 14 during The Associated Press society's annual two-day spring meeting in Columbus.

He will replace Webb McKinley, news editor of Associated Press World Services, who had been scheduled to speak.

Arnett's name is one of the most prominent among the more than 300 western newsmen covering Viet Nam.

Arnett has probably spent more time in the field with combat troops than any other correspondent. He often prowls jungle roads known to be frequented by Viet Cong, using a small rented car.

One such expedition led to his report of a U.S. Information Service film crew staging a mock battle scene. Arnett's other notable news beats have ranged from coverage of the death of a marine column last August to reporting of an operation on a peasant with a live grenade imbedded in his back. He also was the first newsmen to break the story on occasional use of nonlethal tear gas.

Arnett joins Malcolm Browne and Horst Faas as Associated Press Pulitzer Prize winners for Viet Nam coverage. Browne was cited in 1964, Faas last year.

The president of Argentina is elected to a 5-year term and can not succeed himself. Senators are elected to 9-year terms and may be re-elected.

Fund Launched For Family Of Slain Trooper

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP) — A fund for the family of slain state trooper Anthony Lukis Jr. has been started with a $100 contribution from the executive director of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority.

Lukis, 30, the father of five young children, was shot to death on the turnpike near here Wednesday after he stopped to check a car parked on the shoulder.

Troopers seized Daniel C. Kremens, 33, of Brooklyn, N.Y., about three hours later in Paulsboro, 30 miles away. He was flushed from under a porch after an auto and foot chase, and gave no resistance although he was carrying two guns.

Kremens was charged with murder and given a preliminary hearing, at which he said he had no money to hire a lawyer. He was held without bail in Burlington County jail here pending action by the grand jury.

County prosecutor Martin Queenan said he did not know if Kremens had a police record, nor what the motive or cause of the slaying might have been.

Friends and fellow policemen launched a fund campaign to assist the family, and turnpike director William Flanagan got it started with his $100 contribution.

Helped Korean Orphans Find Homes

1966 Mother Of Year Widow With 14 Children

CRESWELL, Ore. (AP) — She has met the president of South Korea and attended a state reception in honor of President Johnson, but America's 1966 Mother of the Year doesn't own a pair of white gloves.

Mrs. Harry Holt, 61, describes herself as a farm woman who doesn't need a lot of fancy clothes, yet her activities have taken her to Latin America, Asia and across the United States.

"I get around quite a bit for an old lady with 14 children," she says.

Mrs. Holt was named America's Mother of the Year Wednesday night in Washington. She already is Oregon's Mother of the Year.

She is a widow who has helped 3,500 Korean orphans find homes in the United States.

In 1955, Mrs. Holt and her husband, who died in 1964, started an adoption program by bringing eight Asian children into their farm home.

From then until his death, Holt spent more than half his time in Korea while Mrs. Holt found herself in Creswell, near Eugene in the Willamette valley, raising a second family.

running a mushrooming adoption service, and working as a one-woman public relations agency for the program.

"Things were never the same after Harry arrived with our eight little ones," she said. "At first we had five in diapers at once. Our 'first family' was a great deal of help."

The Holts spent most of their private assets supporting the babylift operation and the orphanage which today has 36 buildings and houses 557 children.

Holt once was called a "slave trader" by the North Korean government and fought a continuing battle with social workers, U.S. immigration laws and adoption procedures.

Yet, awards include the Medal of Culture — the highest honor the Republic of Korea can bestow upon a foreigner — awarded posthumously to Holt in 1964, the Public Welfare Service Medal from the Korean government and an accompanying citation from the late Korean President Syngman Rhee.

Mrs. Holt's role in the project has been a quieter but equally vital one.

She received her nursing degree from the University of Iowa in 1926, but nursing is only one of her many skills.

In 1956 she wrote a book, "The Seed from the East," in which she told the story of the first two years of the adoption service and the Korean orphanage run by Holt.

She even has directed and edited a movie illustrating the operation of the Korean orphanage.

Her 23-year-old daughter, Suzanne, and five other fulltime employees handle the bulk of office work for the agency.

Daughter Millie, 31, is a missionary nurse in Korea working with orphans.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruce —

Dear Heloise: Would you please tell me how to get play "putty" out of my carpet? It's all over everything.

It looks and feels like bubble gum, but even ice has no hardening effect on it, such as it does on bubble gum.

As a last resort, I might have to cut out some of the fibers of my rug. Please help me.

It will not come out of my pillowcases in the wash — and I even used a cold water soap! One of my little kiddies took it to bed without my knowing it, and it is on two blanket bindings.

MRS. PETRAS.

Hold on, mommy! I get lots of letters about this from other mothers.

Don't cut out the fibers of your rug until you try my method of removing that stuff!

First thing you do is take a wash rag, go to your bathroom cabinet, and pour some rubbing alcohol all over the rag. Squeeze it out so it won't be too wet.

BE SURE TO TEST on a hidden spot to see if your rug is colorfast.

If alcohol won't hurt it (and gosh knows, I don't see how it can, if you're fixing to cut the fibers out, and you've tried everything else), rub the spots and watch the putty disappear!

I feel that plain, old, inexpensive rubbing alcohol also will take it off your blankets, and the other spots in your house.

Amyl acetate (the sure to SPOT TEST first and FOLLOW DIRECTIONS on the container) sometimes helps to remove this goop. And, did you know that a tablespoon or so of water, with a few drops of ammonia added, would clean the last traces away?

MAKE SURE this is applicable to your material.

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Try this trick when using your sewing machine: Every time you finish cutting the threads, just blow them behind the foot into starting position for the next seam! (This actually works!) — Heloise.)

It saves energy, eliminates waste motion ... and best of all, tones the facial muscles!

SHIRLEY F. MESERVE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have never been a lover of plain vanilla ice cream, but it's the easiest to obtain, and even to find specials on.

Try sprinkling your serving with instant coffee, and presto — coffee ice cream.

Absolutely habit forming!

HELENA.

DEAR HELOISE: A friendly neighbor and I traded sets of breakfast dishes last month, and it's worked out like a charm.

We each had a few chipped pieces, but both of us had used the same dishes for 10 years, and were tired of them.

It seems to have put spice into two families' breakfasts!

I suggest that others try trading dishes on a week's trial basis. If you find you don't like them, they can be traded back with no hard feelings.

Do you think we're ready for the nut house?

WEST SIDE HOME MAKER

Not in the least!

I think it's a grand idea.

My aunt traded a set with one of her neighbors, and loved the idea.

As she said — "I couldn't afford a new breakfast set, and neither could my neighbor; and we both were completely happy over the swap."

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Those who have a broken arm in a cast and have difficulty doing the little bit of laundering they prefer to do for themselves, might try what I did.

I used a small washboard, which can be used in the sink. And this way I scrubbed with my one good hand.

I found it very satisfactory.

Delegation Of Local Masons To Attend Steubenville Event

A delegation representing East Liverpool Masonic lodges will attend a reception for George F. DeSilver of Cincinnati, grand master of Masons in Ohio, and his wife tonight at 8 at the Masonic Temple in Steubenville. The affair is open by dues cards to Master Masons, their wives and guests.

The DeSilvers are being honored by leaders of the 24th Masonic District's 14,000 Blue Lodge Masons and affiliated organizations.

DeSilver was born in Cincinnati, where he attended public schools and the University of Cincinnati College of Engineering and Commerce. He is now president of the Pickering Hardware Co., a firm which he joined at the age of 12, and president of the Pickering Realty Co. He has been a Mason for some 30 years and is affiliated with all York and Scottish Rite Bodies and associated organizations in Cincinnati. A 33rd-degree Mason, he held the post for the First Masonic District from 1951 to 1953. He was named grand master for the First Masonic District from 1951 to 1953. He was named junior grand deacon of the Grand Lodge (F & AM) of Ohio in 1958 and was appointed and elected to succeeding Grand Lodge offices, culminated by his election as Grand Master in October 1965.

James L. Armitage, district deputy grand master, is serving as chairman of the event and Frank L. Brunner, a past district deputy grand master, will be master of ceremonies.

Entertainment will be provided by the Steubenville a cappella choir under the direction of E. W. Capen.

Beaver Local Group Elects, Sets Up Drive

Plans for a May 14 door-to-door drive for band uniforms were made during a meeting of the Beaver Local Music Parents Association Tuesday night when Keith Sevy of Calcutta was elected president.

Sevy succeeds Joe Catigani of Calcutta who served as president for two years.

Other officers named were John Garey, vice president, and Robert Cairns, treasurer. Cairns will serve as acting secretary until the post can be filled at the August meeting.

Fifteen teams have been formed to canvass the whole school district May 14 to obtain funds for completing payment of $8,000 for the uniforms purchased last year.

Catigani said about $1,500 is still needed.

A committee was appointed to select the recipient of the Association's $300 scholarship to a Beaver Local student. The committee includes Sevy, Mrs. John Garey, Catigani, Ted Taylor, high school principal, and Supt. Roy Cashdollar.

Plans were discussed for the student concert Friday night at the high school, with proceeds to be used for the uniform campaign.

Catigani expressed appreciation to those who had aided him during his two terms.

Pennsylvania's Draft Call 1,325 For July

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's draft call for July is 1,325 men, according to the state Selective Service Board.

The board said Wednesday the July national call is 26,500. The state's June call is 653 out of a national call for 15,000. In May the state is to furnish 1,507 out of a national call of 34,600.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY
Susskind Tries Again

Getting "Death of a Salesman" on television next Sunday in its original play form culminates 12 years' effort by producer David Susskind.

"When I first wanted to do it in 1954 no one in TV would touch Arthur Miller," Susskind recalls. "We were in the Joe McCarthy period, and Miller had testified before the Un-American Activities Committee. The fact he also had written the great play of our generation made no difference."

AFTER SEN. MCCARTHY died and Americans stopped looking for Commies under every bed, Susskind tried again to obtain the TV rights for Miller's play (it already had been released as a movie in 1952), but the author wanted $100,000 for one performance and one repeat, making it too rich a budget for TV.

Last October Susskind and Miller finally got together for a figure Susskind does not care to reveal. Then in January of this year Susskind and his partner and coproducer Dan Melnick sold "Death of a Salesman" to CBS-TV for $500,000—not a terribly big price for a two-hour production with top actors.

"Don't forget, though," Susskind adds, "that CBS bought it before having any sponsor in sight, and I think the network—deserves a medal for this."

ANOTHER MEDAL is due Susskind himself for persevering in the face of TV's intense allergy to fine drama specials the past decade. The last one he managed to sell was a 90-minute "Hedda Gabler" which his company first made in association with the BBC in London and finally sold to CBS-TV for airing as a special in the fall of 1963.

Ingrid Bergman had the title role.

In 1961 he produced "Power and the Glory" with Sir Laurence Olivier as a two-hour special on CBS-TV; but according to the overnight Arbitron rating at that time, more viewers watched NBC-TV's "Bonanza." The fact that almost as many people tuned to "Power and the Glory" did not satisfy the sponsors.

The manufacturer which has bought "Death of a Salesman" for the coming Sunday telecast assured Susskind it will take nine minutes of commercial time per hour instead of the standard 12 minutes and interrupt the drama only six times during the 120 minutes.

Unfortunately, the same "Bonanza" that toppled Sir Laurence Olivier and "Power and the Glory" is still around and will be against the first hour of "Death of a Salesman."

SEVEN ACTORS — Gene Lockhart, Albert Dekker, Lee

Cobb, Fredric March (in the movie), Luther Adler, Robert F. Simon and Thomas Mitchell—have played the famous Willy Loman role in "Death of a Salesman," but upon obtaining the rights to the play Susskind immediately called Lee Cobb, who created the role when the original drama opened on Broadway early in 1949.

Lee also was a victim of the McCarthy era and lost out to Fredric March when the movie was cast. Ironically, March and his wife, Florence Eldridge, had sued earlier a blacklist publication called "Counterattack" for referring to them as Communists and settled out of court.

Cobb has passionate memories of the Willy Loman role which gained unanimously rave reviews from the critics, and before signing with Susskind he made sure only 12 minutes of the original play would be cut and that those cuts would be made by author Miller. He even has Mildred Dunnock again to play the part of his wife.

"DO YOU KNOW what was on Broadway when we opened then in 'Salesman'?" Cobb reminisces. "Things like 'Mr. Roberts' and 'South Pacific.'"

"The commercial theater has reached far down since then, and the worst of it is that producers now would rather risk $300,000 on a musical than $100,000 on a play about ideas."

"As for movies," Cobb adds, "Even the Philistines have learned to say the right things, and now the art house thing is big, but not for the right reasons. The lovers of really good things are being crowded out. Imagine! Joe Levine being called an independent producer!"

To Lee Cobb an independent remains a man with a passion who handcrafts each production and perhaps does one a year—a dying species, as he says.

U.S. Ambassador Asks Trade Hike With Red Europe

WARSAW (AP)—The U. S. ambassador to Poland flew to Washington today to urge an increase in trade between the United States and the Communist countries of Eastern Europe.

Ambassador John A. Gronouski planned to spend nearly three weeks in the United States. He will report to President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk on his five months as envoy to Poland and his recent swing through neighboring Soviet bloc countries.

Before leaving, the former U. S. postmaster general told newsmen he would discuss about 20 topics, including East-West trade, the Polish-German boundary question and U. S. relations with Red China.

Gronouski said more trade with Soviet bloc countries would help ease the U. S. balance of payments deficit and also would reduce international tensions.

Youth, 20, Indicted In Kidnap Of Student

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Larry Joe Bobbs, 20, of nearby Clairton has been indicted by a federal grand jury in the gunpoint kidnaping of a West Virginia University student and interstate transport of a stolen car.

The FBI said Bobbs kidnaped Jeffers O. Dyer, 18, and stole his car April 2, driving it to nearby Large, Bobbs returned Dyer to Morgantown, W. Va., the next day, then returned with his car to Large.

The grand jury action came Wednesday.

U.S. Traffic Deaths Reported Up By 7%

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council has reported another record statistic in the nation's traffic death toll.

The council reported Wednesday that 10,710 persons died in traffic accidents during the first three months of this year. This was a 7 per cent increase over a similar period last year.

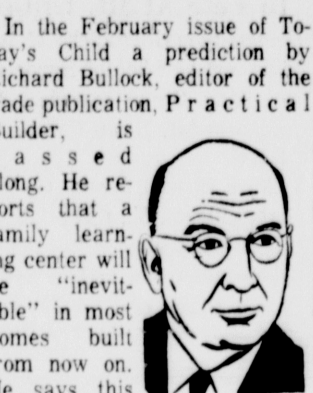

Traffic deaths in March totaled 3,730 or 12 per cent more than in March 1965, the council said.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS
Study Room Not Necessarily An Asset

In the February issue of Today's Child a prediction by Richard Bullock, editor of the trade publication, Practical Builder, is passed along. He reports that a family learning center will be "inevitable" in most homes built from now on.

He says this learning center-Dr. Garry Myers ter in the home will be equipped with tape recorder, motion picture equipment, slide projector, microfilm viewer, not to mention book space and work surfaces. This learning center will be air-conditioned, scientifically lighted, and acoustically perfect. Obviously, Mr. Bullock is talking about future homes of comfortable and affluent families of which let us hope there will be more and more.

SOME WHO read this prediction may think of this learning center in the home in place of the modern comfortable living room. Some others will think of it as a place for reading and learning by the whole family. Still others will suppose the child's own room will be such a learning center, and that, if there are several children, each may have such a room for himself.

An occasional child, often an only child, or the only child in the family in the upper grades of high school, now has a room of his own in which he is expected to do all his homework and intellectual activity. The room even may be equipped as Mr. Bullock dreams of it.

In earlier articles I pointed out that this separate room for each child to study in does not always have the virtues it is supposed to have. Many a youngster expected to do his homework alone in his own room doesn't nearly always profit from this experience.

ALL TOO often the child who has a perfect room of his own for study fritters away his time there. A goodly number of such children have come to my attention. They may not profit from being alone in this ideal room if they have not learned good habits of mental work.

It's conceivable that, the more nearly this room were to measure up to the "ideal" standards of Mr. Bullock's dream-of-learning center, the less effectively the child might have learned to study there.

As you may recall, I cited earlier some real cases of youngsters from 12 to 16 who have not proved efficient students in a room alone. I suggested that such a child might profit from being directed to study each evening with a parent who is engaged in mental work, at the kitchen table, dining room or the like.

I can see that if there were a family learning room it could be a good place in which children with poor study habits might profitably work under the supervision of one of the parents.

WHILE WE parents should aim to have good places in which the children of school age may learn, their having such places is not a sure guarantee that they will do effective learning.

Unfortunately, some parents suppose that all they have to do is to provide a quiet place with ample equipment in which their child may do his book learning, and see that he is in this room on homework evenings. He also needs guidance in the proper use of this place and its materials.

For the large majority of children in our nation, their chief need is the most effective guidance at learning, in whatever home they happen to live.

My bulletins "Tips for Students," "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate," "Helping Child With Lessons at Home," and "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Chester Student Wins Recognition

Danny placed fourth in the writing division of a contest which also included the categories of art and photography.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rosich of Chester R. D. 1, he received a check for $5 and later will be presented a certificate of merit, Jackson said.

Contest entries were received from all 50 states.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman Urges Tax Boost

NEW YORK (AP)—William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, proposes a "simple, clean-cut, across-the-board increase in taxes."

He says such an increase—in both corporate and personal taxes—would be the "logical way" to deal with inflation problems he said are posed by the federal government's budget deficit.

Martin also said Wednesday night that taxes should be increased despite what he called "political problems" that might be involved.

He made the remarks during an off-the-cuff talk at the closing banquet of the Eighth International Savings Banks Congress.

Registration Will Be Held At Pughtown

Mrs. Ernest Freeland, in a meeting of the Pughtown Parent - Teacher Association Monday at the school, announced that registration for children entering first grade next fall will be held May 19.

Each child must have a birth certificate and immunization card and must be 6 years old by Nov. 1, she explained.

George Vukas, president of the Oak Glen Parent - Teacher Association, installed new officers as follows:

Mrs. John Goddard, president; Mrs. Craig Mick, vice president; Mrs. Robert Webster, secretary, and Mrs. Richard Cameron, treasurer.

Mrs. Wayne Archer introduced Mrs. John Owing, Weirton teacher associated with the pre-school program, who presented a talk on pre - school children and what they should learn before starting to school.

Reports of the secretary and treasurer were given by Mrs. Donald Glenn and Mrs. Richard Cameron.

Additional reports were given as follows:

Mrs. Robert McDevitt, hospitality; Mrs. Jay Allison, room representatives; Mrs. James Beagle, ways and means committee; Mrs. Goddard, regional meeting, and Mrs. Glenn, executive committee.

The pre - schoolers presented a program under the direction of Mrs. Freeland.

Mrs. Glenn read a poem, "What Is A Teacher?" The teachers then were presented gifts.

Mrs. Edwin Flowers led devotions.

Refreshments were served by the executive committee.

Mrs. Robert Golden presided.

Potter 'Batman' Nip Toronto, 3-2, To Gain Sectional Title

This East Liverpool High School squad is shown after capturing the Sectional Baseball Tournament championship Wednesday at Steubenville with a 3-2 victory over Toronto.

Bartram's Double In 7th Nets Winning Marker

STEBENVILLE — Sophomore Bob Bartram sent a double down the right field line to drive in Dan Smith with the winning run in the last of the seventh thus giving the East Liverpool Potters a 3-2 victory over Toronto and their first Sectional baseball championship since 1957 Wednesday at the Pleasant Heights Field.

The Potters will ride into the District tournament next week at Bridgeport on an eight-game winning streak and an overall 9-2 record.

BARTRAM became the hero in the last of the seventh as he stepped to bat with the score deadlocked at 2-2. Smith had reached second base after a wide throw to first base by the Toronto shortstop and Bartram slapped Larry Leasure's first pitch into the right field corner as Smith scored easily.

Ace righthander Len Walker, the Potters bread and butter pitcher in the tournament, went the distance as he won his second tourney game in three days.

WALKER was cruising a long walk on a two-hitter and a 2-0 lead for six innings but got into deep trouble in the seventh as Toronto rallied for two runs to knot the score at 2-2.

Toronto netted the two markers on a walk, single, wild pitch and a ringing double to left by Kenny Coulter.

Walker hurled brilliant ball for six innings and wound up with 10 strikeouts while giving only four hits and two walks over the seven-inning stretch.

THE POTTERS staked Walker to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Carl Natalina and Emery Brewer singled. A passed ball advanced the runners then Natalina, with some alert base running, scored on a ground out by Smith.

Coach Jim Potts' nine scored again in the fourth inning when Bob Woods got aboard on an error, moved to second on a single by Eddie Golden and scored on another hit by Natalina.

LEASURE, the losing pitcher, gave up seven hits and fanned three batters. He issued only one walk.

East Liverpool's opponent in the District tournament which opens Monday at Bridgeport is expected to be known by Friday.

POTTER POTPURI — Yesterday's victory was the Potters ninth in their last 10 games and they still haven't lost to an Ohio school. Ken Coulter, Toronto's leftfielder, is a brother of Chip Coulter who was a baseball and an all-state basketball player at Toronto now with the St. Louis Cardinals working his way up in the farm system. Len Walker who has won four straight after an opening loss to Wellsburg has 40 strikeouts in 30 innings, allowed 19 hits and eight runs. His ERA is 2.60. The Potters will be in action Friday at the Colt League Field meeting Beaver Local.

Pirates Edge Reds Again
Mays Belts Record 512th Homer

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie Mays broke Mel Ott's National League Home run record by hitting No. 512 Wednesday night.

Ending a 10-day search for the record-breaker, Mays found the range in the fifth inning and surpassed Ott by tagging a pitch from Claude Osteen over the right field fence for his seventh homer of the season and 512th of his career.

Oddly, it was the first homer of the season by Mays that did not tie or win a game for the San Francisco Giants, who held a 4-1 lead en route to a 6-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers when the $125,000-a-year center fielder brought the crowd to its feet.

Although it didn't count as far as winning the game, it got Mays a two-minute standing ovation from the Candlestick Park crowd of 28,220, it ended a seven-game drought in which Mays hadn't driven in a run and it ended a string of 96 innings in which Osteen had not allowed a homer.

Mays, however, will have nothing to show for it, except a line in the record book. He got his cake, but didn't eat it. And he got his ball, but couldn't keep it.

The ball was retrieved by Henry Garron Jr., 17, of Oakland, Calif., but his father didn't want to part with it.

"I was offered $100 and I think it was worth more," Garron said.

But he still asked Mays to autograph it, and Mays did, remarking: "Be my guest and keep it."

Mays gave scant notice to the cake supplied for the occasion, a yellow cake with "512" written on in white frosting. He didn't spot it until after he had showered, and it went untouched.

"That thing must have been here a week," Mays quipped.

Mays probably will pass two more goals this season. He figures to climb above both Ted Williams, who hit 521 homers, and Jimmy Foxx, who hit 534, before the season ends.

That would leave only one more target — Babe Ruth and his 714 homers.

While Mays provided the hitting excitement, Jack Hamilton of the New York Mets provided the pitching excitement by allowing only one hit in an 8-0 victory at St. Louis — a bunt single by opposing pitcher Ray Sadecki in the third inning.

Elsewhere, Chris Short pitched a two-hitter in Philadelphia's 2-1 victory over Atlanta. Houston's Robin Roberts shut out the Chicago Cubs 4-0 on seven hits and Pittsburgh edged Cincinnati 4-3.

Even though Mays stole the show at Candlestick, Joe Gibbon made an impressive first start for the Giants by setting the Dodgers down on four hits.

Osteen was in trouble before Mays tagged his homer, helping

San Francisco to three unearned runs in a four-run second inning. He hit Jim Hart, allowed a single by Orlando Cepeda and then threw away Jesus Alou's bouncer for one run. Hal Lanier singled home another and Jim Davenport followed with a two-run single.

Hamilton, bringing his record to 3-1, surrendered his only hit when Sadecki laid a two-out bunt down the third base line and beat Ken Boyer's throw to first. The 26-year-old right-hander, purchased from Detroit during the off-season, struck out six, walked only one and allowed only two balls hit out of the infield.

Ron Swoboda and Ed Bresoud gave Hamilton all the support he needed by slamming homers.

Short was touched for both hits by Denis Menke, who singled to center in the fifth inning and hit a homer in the eighth. The Phillie southpaw struck out five and walked two in bringing his record to 3-1.

Tony Gonzalez provided the first hillie run with a homer in the second inning off Ken Johnson and the other came across on consecutive fourth inning singles by Dick Groat, Bill White and John Callison.

Roberts, winning his second in a row after three losses, brought the Astros their fourth straight victory. Joe Morgan singled in the first run and Dave Nicholson took care of the other three with a homer off Dick Ellsworth.

Bob Bailey homered for the Pirates first run in the third inning before they pushed across three unearned fourth inning runs with the aid of two errors by Reds' third baseman Pete Rose.

lost for months and possibly the rest of the season. Wagner is due back in a day or two.

They carried the 26-year-old Brown off the field on a stretcher after trainer Wally Backpried open his mouth to keep him from choking on his blood. Wagner walked off under his own power but accompanied Brown to the hospital for an overnight stay and X-rays. Both had been knocked out on the field.

"It was one of those plays nobody could call," said a dazed Wagner in the clubhouse as he mopped blood from a cut on the bridge of his nose. "I saw Brown. It didn't look like he could catch it so I put on a burst of speed. When the ball went up I knew it had to be caught. It was one of those split second plays that you can't call a man off on."

"I thought I just brushed Brownie. I thought he was just shook up until I saw the blood. We came close Tuesday night on the same type of fly ball that I caught on Joe Pepitone for the last out."

It is feared Brown might be

Wagner, Brown Injured
Whitfield's Blast Nips Yanks

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Great Scott," exclaimed Manager Billy Herman when he saw the rookie infielder sporting an ascot on a spring training trip.

So George Scott discarded the neckwear, but not the nickname.

Scott, Boston's dapper young first baseman, took over the American League home run lead Wednesday night with his sixth and seventh of the season as the Red Sox blanked Detroit 7-0 on Earl Wilson's two-hitter.

It was just that kind of slugging that earned Scott a starting job during spring training.

Scott drove in five runs with his two homers as the Red Sox won their fifth game and third against Detroit this season.

Elsewhere, Fred Whitfield's ninth inning homer gave Cleveland a 2-1 decision over New York in a game in which Indians' shortstop Larry Brown suffered a fractured skull when he collided with teammate Leon Wagner going after a fly ball.

Washington whipped Baltimore 3-2. Minnesota rocked Chicago 6-1 and California ripped Kansas City 13-2 in other games.

Scott's first homer followed one by Wilson in the fifth inning.

In the ninth, Scott hammered his second homer of the night, just missing the left field roof with a long drive.

Whitfield, the Yankees' No. 1 nemesis, beat New York with a homer for the third time this season. The veteran first baseman, who played under New York Manager Johnny Keane when Keane managed the St. Louis Cardinals, has punished Yankee pitching for 13 homers in the last two seasons.

Brown and Wagner collided in the fourth inning chasing Roger Maris' blooper. Brown was reported in serious condition at Lenox Hill Hospital where examination revealed a fractured skull, fractured nose and fractured cheekbone.

Wagner suffered a broken nose.

The Senators, who ended Baltimore's 10-game winning streak Tuesday, beat the Orioles again with three pitchers combining for a five-hitter.

Relievers Dick Lines and Ron Kline permitted just three hits over the last 5 2-3 innings after starter Jim Duckworth was forced to leave the game with a back injury in the fourth inning.

Minnesota scored three runs on one hit in the first inning and went on to beat Chicago as Jim Kaat scattered nine White Sox hits.

Don Mincher's double following an error and a walk produced two runs and then Don Buford's throwing error brought Mincher home with the third run for the Twins.

Bob Rodgers whacked four hits and Norm Siebern and Jack Warner drove in two runs apiece as the Angels racked Kansas City, Dean Chance pitched a six-hitter and the Angels battered three Athletic pitchers for 17 hits.

Central Service Nine To Begin Practice

The Central Service team of the Colt League will practice Friday at 6 p. m. and Saturday at 10 p. m. at the Colt Field. Any boy who hasn't signed up for a team but would like to tryout with Central Service can report at this time.

Potters Counting On Distance Men, Relay Teams In County Track Meet

While Salem and East Palestine rate as the co-favorites in 63rd running of the Columbiana County Track and Field meet Friday night at East Palestine, Potter coach Norm Six figures East Liverpool has a good chance of scoring heavily in the distance and relay events.

Six who sent his team through a good workout Wednesday rates Greg Manning as one of the top two - milers in the county and singled out Bill Loy who could finish on top in the mile event.

Manning has one of the top times in the county with 10:40 in the two mile run while Loy has been clocked in 4:40 of the mile.

In addition to his two distance entries, Six feels the mile relay and 880 relay teams can score in the County event. The mile relay team is only two seconds off the school record and includes Bill Hopper, Jim Gooding, Nick Marchbanks and Tom Moore.

The 880 team has been running well and it will be made up of Paul Spooner, Dale Mercer, Gooding and Hopper. Six said Mercer has been slowed by a pulled leg muscle and if he is unable to run Jeff Kidder would fill in on the 880 quartet.

Eleven schools will go to the post in the County meet which gets under way at 2 p. m. with preliminaries while the finals will begin at 7 p. m.

East Palestine is the defending champion while Salem has a lot of depth and can be figured as the team to beat.

Beaver Local will be counting heavily on its star Larry Roberts who can run the 100, 220 and 440 and has been flirting with the county shot put record.

Wellsville will depend on Bill Reed in the mile and half mile events, John Sedor in the hurdles and Jack Young in the 440. This trio has been scoring consistently in dual meet competition.

Rain Perils Houston Play

HOUSTON (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer rule as favorites in the $117,000 Champions International Golf Tournament but the best bet is for rain.

It has showered here all week as players tried to get in practice and today's opening round was threatened by more of the same as the 97 pros and four amateurs waited to see whether they would get a chance at the 7,118-yard par 36-35-71 Cypress Creek layout.

Doug Sanders, Gay Brewer, Ben Hogan, Jack Burke and defending champion Bobby Nichols are among other favorites.

During a pro-amateur in light rain Wednesday, both Nicklaus and Palmer failed to break par. Nicklaus shot a 72, good for $90 while Palmer had a 73 for $23.33.

The giant squid has arms 35 feet long and a 19-foot body.

Time to clean up bills!

PROSPECTIVE MEMBER MILO RADISH WAS SOLD ON THE OWLS CLUB AS A PLACE OF DIGNITY AND QUIETUS....

WELL...HE'S A FULL-FLEDGED MEMBER NOW...FEELS RIGHT AT HOME...SO HOW'S HE BEHAVING?

THANKS AND A TIP OF THE HAT TO IRVING I. HELFPOOT, 5986 KINGS ROAD, LOS ANGELES, CALIF.

THIS IS THE RELAXING ROOM...WHERE THE MEMBERS CAN UNWIND

YEAH! GREAT! I SURE COULD USE A PLACE LIKE THIS...

HEY! WHICH ONE OF YOU GUYS GOT THE NEW ISSUE OF PEEK? YOU GOT IT, CURLY? HI, NEWT!!

DICK TRACY

THE FLOATING TAPES WILL MAKE THIS JOB EASIER..

YOU SEE WITH THE BOATS ANCHORED, WE DRAG THE CHANNELS BETWEEN EACH TAPE.

WHEN THE BOYS TURN THE TAPES AND WE DRAG THE MAGNET THE OTHER DIRECTION.

I WISH EVERY POLICE DEPARTMENT IN AMERICA HAD A PAIR OF THE MOON GOVERNOR'S MAGNETIC ONE-MAN CARS!

THEY'RE TERRIFIC!

STEVE CANYON

AND MAY TOP OF THE DAY TO YOU, COLONEL MAY TINK!

LUFFY MULDOON! YOU BRING INFORMATION?

MIND YOU--ONLY A SUSPICION THAT MY NOBLE LADY HAS BEEN DUPED BY THE VILE YANKEES!

IT IS SO TRIVIAL THAT I SHOULD NOT BURDEN YOUR DISTINGUISHED SELF.

I MUST BE THE JUDGE OF THAT!

PERHAPS AN ADDITIONAL PAYMENT ON OUR ACCOUNT WILL BRING THE MATTER INTO FOCUS!

HA! THE COLONEL IS A MAN OF TASTE! NOW, THIS IS WHAT I'VE LEARNED IN THE COURSE OF A LIFETIME FAMILY DISCUSSION.

GIL THORP

You've decided where you're going to college?

Yes, suh! Ah'm goin' to State University!

You're passing up all the gravy that Coach Grick has offered you?

Well...Ah had to decide whether to spend the next four years enjoying mahself...Or gettin' an education!

Since Ah can't do both...Ah decided in favor of education!

State's offering me a fine scholarship but Ah'll have to work real hard to keep it!

Berrill

ANDY CAPP

C'MON, LURRY UP--WE'LL BE LATE!

WHAT ON EARTH--?

IT'S A WEDDIN', Y'KNOW!

I KNOW IT'S A WEDDIN'--I JUST WANT TO AVE IT HANDY IN CASE ANYBODY FANCIES A KICKABOUT

BLONDIE

THE BILLS THIS MONTH ARE OUTRAGEOUS!

I'M GOING TO MAKE YOU GIVE UP ALL OF YOUR CHARGE ACCOUNTS AND CREDIT CARDS

BUT DEAR--EVERYBODY CHARGES THINGS

IF I STARTED PAYING CASH, PEOPLE WOULD THINK WE DON'T HAVE ANY MONEY

KIP KIRBY

YOU HAVEN'T SIPPED ANYTHING INTO THIS TEA, HAVE YOU ALLURA?

NO RIP AND I'M SORRY ABOUT THE OTHER TIME, BUT YOU WERE BEING DIFFICULT...

I'M GLAD YOU DRUGGED ME. I WOULDN'T MISS THIS FOR ALL THE SALMON IN MAIN.

I'M GRAD I DID, TOO

GENTLEMEN, I WILL PERSONALLY SHOW YOU TO YOUR ROOMS, AS WE CAN TRUST NO ONE GET SOME SLEEP TO PREPARE FOR THE MORROW...

JULIET JONES

I CANNOT...WITH ALL MY ART...MAKE A SILK PURSE OUT OF A SOW'S EAR, MR. TEAGUE!

THAT DOES IT!

I'M SORRY, EVE...I GUESS I'M JUST NOT CONSTRUCTED FOR THIS KIND OF PEONAGE. SO I...

YOU'RE CONSTRUCTED IN A WAY PLEASING TO ME, AND I'M THE BOSS, THE LITTLE DICTATOR OF THIS OUTFIT. YOU STAY, MISS...?

JONES! MR. HIGGINS HAS TROUBLE REMEMBERING IT, TOO!

1550 A.D. ITALIANS TOOK ICE FROM MOUNTAIN TOPS

ADDED SALT SO IT WOULD FREEZE MILK

...AND MADE SOMETHING DELICIOUSLY NEW...

IT WAS ICE CREAM WHICH WE ALL LOVE!

QUESTION: Did the ancients know how to make ice cream or was its use discovered later?

ANSWER: Ice was a great luxury for the ancient peoples, especially for those who lived in warm climates. They could not make ice, but they could and did bring blocks of ice down from mountains. It is known that the Romans made water ices and that Marco Polo, coming home from his famous trip to the far east, is supposed to have brought a recipe for adding milk to water ices, making a kind of ice cream.

But it was the Italians who really started ice cream on its way. For a long time they had used ice brought down from the mountains, until, about 1550, someone discovered that if salt was added to ice it would become colder, and that milk and flavoring could be frozen by it. At first, this delicious dish was reserved by European chefs for the nobility, but the secret soon leaked out.

In America, ice cream was known in the early 1700's but its use was rare until Dolly Madison served it in the White House in 1809. After 1900 it became America's favorite dessert. By the time of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904, the ice cream cone had appeared.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try some of the less usual forms of ice cream, like soft ice cream (taken from a freezer before it's hard) frozen custard (with eggs added) and parfait (a rich ice cream less solid than the regular kind).

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, May 5th, the 125th day of 1966. There are 240 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1936, Italy proclaimed the conquest of Ethiopia.

On this date

In 1775, Benjamin Franklin returned from London and a long and vain effort against arbitrary taxation of the colonies.

In 1821, Napoleon Bonaparte died on the island of St. Helena.

In 1847, the American medical association was organized.

In 1942, the rationing of sugar began throughout the United States.

In 1955, the Federal Republic of Germany--Western Germany--became a sovereign state.

Ten years ago...Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson decisively defeated Gov. Allan Shivers for the leadership of the Texas Democratic party in precinct conventions.

Five years ago...in a sub-orbital flight, Commander Alan B. Shepard Jr. was rocketed 116 miles above the earth in a Mercury Capsule and landed safely in the Atlantic.

One year ago...two contending forces in the Dominican Republic signed a formal truce agreement--but fighting continued in Santo Domingo.
